Robbie Travis answered yes, noting they had measured everything. He noted that he had got with Fire Chief Paul Tooley and the Fire Chief was okay as long as setbacks and access in case of fire was needed. He noted they were looking at the new sprinkler codes.

Commissioner Ruben Olivas asked if this permit was strictly property itself, nothing to do with anything other than use of the land; then they have to meet other requirements when building starts.

Robbie Travis answered that yes, this permit was for the land use only, they will have to follow the requirements before the building starts.

Mayor Pro-Tem Steve Green stated that others had arrived, noting the signup sheets as proponents, opponents, staff or the public, giving time for anyone wishing to sign up to speak to do so now.

He noted they have restrictive quiet time, no loud noise was permitted, and he spoke of their quiet hours requirements. Mr. Foerstner stood for questions.

Commissioner Ruben Olivas asked if there would eventually be hot water and cold water pools, asking what the building would look like.

Jack Foerstner answered they were not at that point yet, he noted plenty of open space. He also explained they were heavily regulated by NMFD, he noted they were too full most of the time, needed more space so they don’t continue to loose busloads of tours passing through town.

Mayor Pro-Tem Steve Green asked if the plan was for a one story or two story developments.

Jake Foerstner answered ‘a single story’.

Mayor Pro-Tem Steve Green called to other proponents on the sign in sheet.

Meleasa Matzahn approached, took the Oath and stated she was a neighbor of Riverbend and owns Hot Springs & a Hotel too. She noted her concern of the proposed changes. She wanted to know why it was not a zone change, why is it a Special Use Permit, what is the difference.

Bill Slettom, ACM/CDD approached and answered that they City does not encourage zone change, Special Use was established for items such as this. He mentioned the City does not do spot Zoning, and this was envisioned as Special Use instead.

Meleasa Matzahn continued, stating she was concerned with this; noting that a cold pool and how they spoke of it being a silent thing. Pools are loud, and she was concerned with its use. She stated she would hope the owners police the area well and insure the quite promise.

Ms. Kathe Bachtel passed on speaking.

Barbara Salasin approached, took the Oath and said she just had a question, not about the building, not about the land; she asked what exists as Riverbend then is considered Commercial. How do you not change it to Commercial?

Bill Slettom, ACM/CDD approached and answered that it's not a piece of Commercial parcels, not combined, unusual to have a piece of property like this.

Barbara Salasin continued stating she thought it should all be Commercial.

Carole Vosbourgh approached, took the Oath and stated she was a neighbor 5 foot away from the fence of Riverbend, she noted that she has a nice view of the river and from her front door. She worried when they put the fence up it will make a difference in her view, wondering how it will effect it. She also noted her concern was the noise which would be coming from the area.

Mayor Pro-Tem Steve Green noted this would have to be up to Code. He did sympathize with health concerns when the time came for construction.

Robbie Travis, Building Inspector, noted that the fence height restriction was 8 foot.

Mayor Pro-Tem Steve Green called for Bernhard Richman to approach.

Bernhard Richman passed on speaking.

Sid Bryan approached, took the Oath and said he questioned the property ownership, the “Commercial” question. He noted he heard there were to be 7 baths and another four Jacuzzis and a cold water pool, asking if that was true. Asking if they would use hot water, if it was different if rented with the Built, he asked what kind of use it would be, if refilled after each use or if the same water would be used again. He noted land use R-3, and said if they have 12 pools then 7 baths with drop in Jacuzzis what would be the number of people every hour.

Mayor Pro-Tem Steve Green noted the mention of 7 pools and asked Jake Foerstner about it.

Jack Foerstner approached and stated 5, four small soaking and one pool.

Commissioner Ruben Olivas said he would have questions later.

Mayor Pro-Tem Steve Green stated they needed to move on.

Mayor Pro-Tem Steve Green noted the Members of Public who signed in.

Sophia Peron approached, took the Oath and asked about the property already there, about the adjacent property, and noted they needed to work with Carol and Bernhard. She noted her friend Joann Love had to pay for sidewalks and for the cement sidewalks; it should be like that for Riverbend.

Ariel Daugherty approached, took the Oath and noted that Sid had raised interesting questions; she also noted the confusion of use of commercial asking if that was the intent.

Lee Foerstner answered that one leases from the other.

Ariel Daugherty continued speaking of the view, it being a great idea and noting there would be more activity.

Hans Townsend approached, he signed in late as a Member of the Public. Mr. Townsend noted he owned the Desert View Inn and that the Riverbend caused a ripple effect. Noting that everyone wanted business and to improve life in the Town, he noted he sells vouchers for Riverbend and people like it, he stated he is in favor of the proposed item.
