

Antrim County Privacy Policy

July 10, 2003

From time to time, for various programs and services, the County will compile personal information such as postal and e-mail addresses. This information is intended for County purposes only. Unless by constitution or statute your personal information is considered public information, Antrim County will keep such personal information confidential and will only use the information for its intended purpose.

- We do not sell, rent, exchange, or share personal information lists.

- We do not link our personal information lists to other databases outside of the County government.
