New Firehouse for Crescent Villa Fire Authority!

A Joint Firehouse Building Committee was formed at the end of last year in order to look at options regarding a new firehouse. A lot has changed in the 45 years since the firehouse on Overlook Drive in Crescent Springs was constructed. The firehouse was built to house much smaller fire trucks and a single gender staff with no sleeping accommodations. An engineering study found that the existing structure was not salvageable. A new facility will provide greater efficiency while keeping the EMTs and firefighters safe.

The Cities of Crescent Springs and Villa Hills are both contributing to the cost of the new firehouse. Based on several factors, the split between Crescent Springs is 40% and Villa Hills is 60%. This split has been applied over the course of many years when determining how much each city pays to the Fire Authority every year for the services provided by both the fire department and EMS. This committee is comprised of members from Crescent Springs, Villa Hills, the Fire Department and the mayors and several employees of both cities. Both Mayors Hartfiel and Jansen appointed individuals from the fire department and residents of the cities that they felt would be very efficient in moving the process forward. All recommendations from the Firehouse Committee must go before each city's council for approval before anything is done in furtherance of the construction of the new building. In February, both councils approved a design firm contract and financing for the entire project. Information regarding the new firehouse can be found on the home page of our website. Simply click on the "New Firehouse Project" button to access the information.
