Description: The Freestone River Ranch Stream Improvement Projects seeks to alter the channel and adjacent banks of the Eagle River within the project reach to increase the amount, quality and diversity of in-channel, and side channel, trout habitat. The proposed improvements will benefit both the riparian and aquatic ecosystems and provide more, and better, angling opportunities throughout all flow conditions. Construction of this project is anticipated to potentially require a phased approach to accommodate in-channel construction restrictions recommended by the Colorado Parks and Wildlife. The 1st phase is anticipated to occur between August 1st – September 30th 2023, with a second phase occurring in February 01 – Mid March.
