Dear Jo Daviess County Resident,

All those who pay real estate taxes, shop, or eat in Jo Daviess County help to support our county government. This is why it is important to know what services are available within the county and how you can best utilize them throughout the year.

The various departments within Jo Daviess County government are briefly described in this booklet, along with the services they provide, as well as lists of the names of the elected and appointed officials responsible for those departments.

Even though the names of the elected officials may be outdated because of subsequent elections, the descriptive information of the various county departments and their services will remain somewhat constant.

Please use this booklet as a way to become more familiar with your county government, its officials, and what it can offer you!

As always, my office is available to provide any additional information you may require. Please feel free to give us a call or stop by our office in the Jo Daviess County Courthouse in Galena if we can supply you with more copies of this booklet or can be of service to you in any way.

Best regards,

Angela Kaiser

JO DAVIESS COUNTY

Although explorers, Native Americans, and trappers passed through the impenetrable land that is now Jo Daviess County in the late 1700s and the early 1800s, the first permanent settlements by the whites existed about 1820. In fact, those settlements were the first by whites in all of northwest Illinois.

They settled by the Galena River, which was then known as the Fever or Bean River. Although no evidence confirms it, the river is said to be named for a Frenchman named La Fevre who once visited the area. The Indian name of the river was Mahcaubee that, if translated, means "fever" or "fever that blisters," the Indian term for small pox.

The Indians gave it this name because in the early days of this country, some of the warriors existing on the present site of Galena and the banks of a small creek just south of town, went to the assistance of their eastern brothers. On their return, they brought with them a disease that they named "Maucaubee", the fever that blistered. Hundreds of natives died, and the Indians named both the river and the stream Small Pox River.

The smaller creek is still named Small Pox Creek while the whites changed the river's name to "Fever River," and the frontier hamlet was known as the "Fever River Settlement" or LaPointe until 1826 or 1827 when it was given the name Galena.

The name Bean River originated from the fact that the early French traders and adventurers, who undoubtedly were in the area prior to the 1820s, changed the Indian name to "Riviere au Feve," river of the bean. As early as 1822, the "City" of Galena was mentioned in newspapers while Chicago was referred to simply as, "a village in Pike County, containing 12 or 15 houses and about 60 or 70 inhabitants." Galena was more important commercially than Chicago at this time; it served as a trading point and provided work at its nearby lead mines.

During these early years, traders' lives were in constant jeopardy because of the many warlike and dangerous Sac and Fox Indian tribes inhabiting the land. Treaties were signed in the early 1800s allowing the Indians to work the lead mines in certain areas and to live on reservations.

The Black Hawk War proved that not all Indians complied with the conditions, though neither did all of the pioneers. As early as the late 1700s, historians report that the white man was etching out a life with his Indian brothers in Jo Daviess County, sometimes for the betterment of each other...and sometimes not.

Jo Daviess County survived those early days to become a haven for those who wanted to strive for something adventuresome, some new way of life. Whether it was trading with the Indians, working the lead mines or just heading "out West", Jo Daviess County was the destination for many families.

The Black Hawk War and the Civil War provide our history books with the names of many local heroes. However, the day-to-day living that many of those pioneer families had to contend with is the backbone of what has provided us with the beautiful and peaceful rolling hills and quiet communities we enjoy here today.

Joseph H. Daviess

Joseph Hamilton Daviess was born March 4, 1774 in Bedford County, Virginia to Joseph and Jean Daviess.

Daviess' parents were both Virginia natives, but his father was of Irish and his mother of Scottish descent. In 1779, the Daviess family moved to Lincoln County, Kentucky, near the present city of Danville.

In 1792, at the age of 18, Daviess volunteered for a six-month military stint with Major Adir to protect the white settlements from Indian invasions. At the end of his military service he returned to Danville and resumed his schooling, studying law with the celebrated George Nicholas, Kentucky's first lawyer, as his teacher.

Daviess was admitted to the bar in 1795 and practiced in Danville for several years before moving to Frankfort. He was later appointed United States Attorney from the state of Kentucky. He remained at that position until 1806 when he moved to Owensboro, Daviess County, Kentucky, to attend to his large property holdings. He moved to Lexington, Kentucky in 1806 to take care of his large acreage there and to resume his legal profession.

In 1801, Daviess went to Washington, D.C., and became the first western lawyer to appear in the United States Supreme Court where he argued the celebrated case of Wilson vs. Mason. He made a number of acquaintances while in Washington, and in 1803, he married Anne Marshall, the sister of the United States Chief Justice John Marshall.

In the fall of 1811, Daviess joined the army of General William Henry Harrison in the campaign against the Indians in the Indiana Wabash River Valley and received the command of the Kentucky Volunteer Dragoons. On November 7, 1811, during the battle of Tippecanoe, Daviess was fatally shot in the chest while leading a cavalry charge against the Indians. He never did visit the Illinois area that perpetuates his name.

On February 17, 1827, Jo Daviess County was created from a territory that now constitutes nine northwestern Illinois counties. The name Jo Daviess was not given to the county by its citizens. The name in the original bill was Ludlow and was intended to honor a naval hero of that name.

A member of the Illinois House of Representatives moved to strike out Ludlow in exchange for the name of Daviess in honor of Joseph Hamilton Daviess of Kentucky. Another member of the House suggested, in jest, the word "Jo" be inserted to avoid namesake confusion with Illinois House member William Daviess of Wayne County.

The amendment was carried by a large majority, and the name Jo Daviess was incorporated in the bill. The House apparently expected that Jo would be struck out by the Senate; however, the senators passed the bill without amendment, and the name Jo Daviess County remained.

JO DAVIESS COUNTY COURTHOUSE

The current structure of the Jo Daviess County Courthouse is one of the oldest in northern Illinois. It was begun in 1839, twelve years after the establishment of the county. Because the United States Government owned the lead lands and would only lease parcels, there was no way a permanent Courthouse could be financed. As a result, county business was transacted by renting space, the first sessions being held in a local tavern. Revenues to maintain the county were limited. Most came from either licenses or a small tax on personal property. Little came from land sales because ownership was not yet permitted.

By 1833, the commissioners had moved Courthouse proceedings to Charles Peck's warehouse, a large wooden structure located where the DeSoto House Hotel now stands. This also proved inadequate and in 1838 the commissioners purchased one-half of the newly constructed John Dowling building for $16,000. Until the county could find a suitable lot and build their own structure, the Dowling building was intended to be temporary quarters. This stone structure still serves Main Street as a retail business.

In December of 1838, John Slaymaker and Samuel Mazzuchelli were appointed engineers to superintend and oversee the architectural work required in the construction of a new county courthouse. Construction moved slowly; it was Spring of 1845 before the Courthouse was in full session at its current location.

In July of 1900 a new addition for the front of the building was started. A three-story brick section with a mansard roof and a large cupola were added. By the end of December the new addition measured 90 feet to the top of the tower and was ready for occupancy. The cupola deteriorated badly over the years and a severe storm in 1930 toppled it to the ground. It was never replaced. Three other alterations have taken place since. Two rear block and stone additions were added in 1941 and 1970 and behind these a new Public Safety Building was completed in 1976.

SUGGESTIONS WHEN WRITING AN ELECTED REPRESENTATIVE

With thousands of separate pieces of legislation to consider every year, legislators at Springfield and Washington need the opinion, advice and specialized knowledge from the citizens of Jo Daviess County to guide them. It is impossible to have a detailed knowledge of the technicalities of every bill on which a legislator must vote.

This means that the legislator welcomes your letters, even if you oppose a bill, because you are providing knowledge needed to make a decision.

How to Correspond With Your Legislator

The first essential ingredient of an effective correspondence to a legislator is a specific reference to the particular bill which interests you. Refer to the bill by its official designation, such as HB 685 (for House bills) or SB 658 (for Senate bills).

The second important element is a brief description of the bill's provisions which concern you and an explanation of the effect which these provisions will have on your company or your employment.

The third element of an effective correspondence is your advice as to how your legislator should vote.

How to Address the Letter

State Senators and State Representatives receive correspondence from their constituents at both their homes and their offices. The office address for both Senators and Representatives is the State Capitol, Springfield, when the legislation is in session.

Sample salutation for a Senator:

Senator (Full Name)
Senate Post Office
State Capitol
Springfield, IL 62705

Dear Senator (Last Name):
Sample salutation for a Representative:
Representative (Full Name)
House Post Office

Dear Representative (Last Name):

Since Congress is in session for a longer period than the Illinois General Assembly is, U.S. Senators and U.S. Representatives receive most of their legislative correspondence at Washington.

Address your correspondence to your member of Congress like this:

Sample salutation for a Senator:
The Honorable (Full Name)
U.S. Senate
Washington D.C. 20510

Dear Senator (Last Name):

Sample salutation for a Representative:

COUNTY BOARD

LaDon Trost, County Board Chairperson

*Jo Daviess County Courthouse
330 N. Bench St., Galena, IL 61036
Phone: 815-777-6557*

Jo Daviess County operates under the township form of government. The governing body is the County Board. The County Board's primary function is to establish the various budgets of the county funds and to levy taxes for county purposes. Also, the board adopts all ordinances and rules pertaining to the management and business of the county departments.

Jo Daviess County is comprised of seventeen County Board districts. One County Board member is elected from each district for a four-year term, with half of the Board elected every two years.

The County Board meets at 7:00 p.m. on the second Tuesday of each month in the County Board Room of the Jo Daviess County Courthouse in Galena. A special meeting may be called at any time upon submission to the County Clerk of a petition signed by at least one third of the members. Only such business may be transacted at the special meeting as has been stated in the notice of the special meeting called.

The County Board is comprised of eight standing committees. Committee appointments are made by the chairperson, with the concurrence of the board. The chairperson makes appointments of all special committees and various other boards and commissions, with the concurrence of the board.

Following the General Election, the members of the County Board elect its Chairperson for a period of two years. The Chairperson also serves as the County's Liquor Control Commissioner. This authority and jurisdiction extend only to that area of the county which lies outside the corporate limits of the cities, villages and unincorporated towns.

Under no circumstances does the authority extend to any area where the people of any local political subdivision have voted to prohibit the sale of alcoholic liquors in accordance with the terms and provisions of the state law governing the same.

The County Clerk has five major functions: Chief Election Officer for the county; Tax Extender for computing tax rates and the redemption of delinquent taxes; keeper of the county records and land records; Registrar of Vital Records; and Clerk of the County Board. By law, the County Clerk also files assumed names for businesses and Statements of Economic Interest.

The County Clerk administers elections of national, state, and county officials within Jo Daviess County. There are currently 28 precincts with 15,705 registered voters under the jurisdiction of the County Clerk. They also administer all elections for schools, parks, townships, and other special districts under their jurisdiction. For election dates, refer to the Schedule of Elections in this publication.

The County Clerk provides for the legal registration of voters and the maintenance of the voting record. They supervise and provide training for election judges and are responsible for monitoring and supervising all deputy voting registrars, including training seminars.

The County Clerk computes the tax rates of over 100 units of government based on the amount of money requested by each unit of government and the amount of assessed value within the district. Taxes are set by dividing the levy (amount of tax money requested by district) by the assessed valuation of the district ($\text{Rate} = \text{levy} / \text{assessed value}$). From these rates, individual tax bills are prepared.

The County Clerk is the local registrar for vital records. The County Clerk's office has over 17,000 birth certificates on file and over 19,000 death certificates of Jo Daviess County residents dating from 1877. The Clerk's office also has issued over 37,000 marriage licenses since 1830.

The County Clerk is responsible for the minutes of the County Board. They also monitor all licenses and permits as provided by county ordinance, prepares all claims and reports from each county office to be approved by the County Board, pays all approved county invoices, and administers the county payroll and employee participation in health insurance, deferred compensation, and Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund.

The County Clerk administers all oaths of office and maintains bonds of elected and appointed officials.

The Recorder's office maintains the index and records of all property transactions. All real estate documents, corporation papers, both federal and state tax liens, and other miscellaneous documents, together with military veterans' separation and discharge papers are recorded.

Each document is assigned an official document number at the time it is presented for recordation. Records date back to 1829.

The Illinois Real Estate Transfer Act is administered through the Recorder's Office. Revenue stamps are purchased electronically at the time of recording.

In Jo Daviess County, the Recorder also maintains a book and digital tract index of real estate transactions which indicates the title to the property and any mortgages or liens against it. The chain of title may be traced back to the original government grant in these indexes.

TREASURER'S OFFICE

Melisa Hammer, Treasurer

*Jo Daviess County Courthouse

Phone: 815-777-0355 FAX: 815-777-2285
Email: treasurer@jodaviesscountyil.gov*

The County Treasurer, also known as the County Collector, has the duty to receive and safely keep the revenue and public monies of the county. This office must keep an account of all monies received and keep accounts of monies paid out, stating the time, to whom the payment is made, and on what account payment has been made. All accounts are balanced on a monthly basis and a report is generated for the County Board.

All payments must be specifically authorized by law or the County Board has the authority and obligation to invest money in their custody with the guidelines and restrictions set forth in the statutes. The Treasurer has the responsibility to invest available money in a prudent and responsible manner with protection of principal taking precedence over the rate of return.

The County Treasurer is charged by the County Clerk to collect all of the taxes levied by approximately 100 local taxing bodies within Jo Daviess County. Upon receipt of the assessments and tax rates, and after the tax extensions are set, the County Treasurer then prints and mails the tax bills to owners of record. After the bills are mailed, real estate taxes are due and payable in two installments: approximately June 1st and September 1st. Distribution of tax receipts is made to the various taxing districts during the collection period. The delinquent taxes and the unpaid taxes, by law, are offered for sale after publication and notification of the same.

The County Treasurer collects and distributes, as required, transfers of monies from the State of Illinois. These transfers include in part: sales tax, supplemental sales tax, income tax, income tax surcharge, salary reimbursement, replacement tax, inheritance tax, emergency management assistance program monies and motor fuel tax.

Honor, Duty and Integrity

The Sheriff, the chief principal law enforcement officer of the county, is the only full-time elected county law enforcement official provided for by the Illinois Constitution.

The Office of the Sheriff goes back in history to old-world Europe and was brought by early settlers to this country where it has evolved into an all-encompassing law enforcement agency.

The Jo Daviess County Sheriff's Office is responsible for numerous and diverse services. In addition to providing direct law enforcement and public safety service to all citizens in unincorporated Jo Daviess County, the Sheriff's Office also supplements and assists other law enforcement agencies in the county as needed. The Sheriff's Office works closely with and provides assistance to the social service agencies in the county such as Riverview Center and Tyler's Justice Center.

The Sheriff maintains the Jo Daviess County Jail, which is located within the Public Safety Building and has a total capacity of 27 inmates. Also located within the Public Safety Building is the Emergency Enhanced 9-1-1 Communications Center. The Sheriff's Office has the only communication for all emergency responders (Fire, EMS and Law Enforcement) throughout the county.

The Sheriff is responsible for general law enforcement, criminal investigations, public safety services, maintaining the county jail, and Emergency 9-1-1. The Sheriff also provides other services including, but not limited to, water patrol and rescue, mounted auxiliary patrols, two narcotics detection and criminal apprehension canine units, and vehicle investigations. The Sheriff also maintains dockets, registers, jail records, fingerprints, and arrest files. Writs and warrants are executed, and summons and subpoenas are served. The Sheriff's deputies also attend all courts on record, and accept and receipt bail in accordance with the rules of the Circuit Court.

The Jo Daviess County Sheriff's Merit Commission was established in 1986 by an ordinance adopted by the Jo Daviess County Board.

The commission is composed of five members, a chairperson, vice-chairperson and secretary. The commission meets quarterly and also tests and screens applicants for positions with the Sheriff's office.

The duties of the commission are to accept applications and to screen applicants through written examinations, physical examinations, interviews, background investigations, reputation, character, and employment records. Upon successfully qualifying applicants, the commission prepares an eligibility list for the Sheriff's use in hiring sworn personnel.

The commission also tests Sheriff's personnel for promotions and holds hearings on members of the Sheriff's Office when complaints have been filed on violations of the Sheriff's policies.

The Public Defender's office is responsible for defending indigent clients, or clients who are financially unable to pay for a private attorney. The office represents such clients charged with felonies and misdemeanors. The Public Defender also represents individuals in the juvenile and mental health courts.

The Court appoints the public defender on a case-by-case basis. To determine whether you qualify for a public defender, you must do the following:

1. Fill out a financial affidavit form, which can be obtained from the Jo Daviess County Circuit Clerk's Office;
2. The Court must appoint the Public Defender to represent you.

When you fill out the financial affidavit form, you are representing to the Court that the form is a true, accurate, and complete reflection of your financial situation. Not being truthful on the form may result in a charge of perjury.

If the Court does not appoint the Public Defender, then the individual may choose to hire a private attorney or they may represent themselves on a pro se basis.

All Attorneys in the Jo Daviess Public Defender's Office are lawyers licensed to practice law in the State of Illinois.

The Office of Clerk of the Circuit Court is a Constitutional Office; elected on a county-wide basis, but not a county office as defined by the Illinois Constitution. It is a non-judicial office of the Judicial Branch of State government. The duties are set forth by statute, Supreme Court rules, and local Circuit Court rules.

The Circuit Clerk is required to attend all sessions of the Court, keep and preserve all records and files of the Court, issue process as required by law, and is the Keeper of the Seal of the Court.

The Circuit Court under the Illinois Constitution is the trial court level. It handles every type of case from parking tickets to murder cases, from small claims to multi-million dollar personal injury suits, and from adoption to the probate of an estate.

The Circuit Clerk's Office is proud of its modernized record-keeping systems. Its computer system has improved the efficiency and services and through the use of data processing has met the challenge of an increased volume of paperwork at a minimal increase in cost. That said, we are now working toward creating a paperless court. All civil pleadings must now be filed electronically or "e-filed". In the near future, we will be accepting e-filed documents in the traffic and criminal departments as well.

The Circuit Clerk's office also helps with genealogical searches to local residents.

The Jo Daviess County Coroner's Office exists to provide the people of Jo Daviess County with a thorough investigation in the event of a death, pursuant to the Illinois State Statute. This investigation may include, but is not limited to: autopsies, toxicology tests, metabolic studies, x-rays, entomological studies and personal as well as psychiatric histories. (Pursuant to Illinois Compiled Statutes ILCS, Chapter 55)

The Coroner's Office is responsible for determining the manner and the cause of death in all homicides, suicides, accidents, all cases where there was no recent attending physician, or where circumstances surrounding the death are obscure or mysterious.

The responsibilities of the Coroner are to see that the proper scientific studies are performed. These include autopsy, toxicology, microscopic slide examinations, bacteriology, x-rays, and whatever other studies are deemed to be appropriate and necessary in each specific case.

The Coroner's office is the legal/medical office mandated by the Statutes of the State of Illinois to investigate and assist in the determination of the manner and cause of deaths occurring within Jo Daviess County. The Coroner directs independent medical and legal investigations of death cases that come under the jurisdiction of the office.

The Coroner's jurisdiction is determined by where a death actually occurs, not where a particular incident/accident happened that might have caused the death. An incident/accident may occur in one county, but if the victim is transported to a facility in another county and pronounced deceased, the jurisdiction lies where the actual pronouncement of death occurs.

In addition, the Coroner is the Conservator of Peace and acts as the Sheriff should a vacancy occur in that office.

Cremation Permits: Families frequently request cremation services versus traditional burial services. The funeral director will notify the Coroner's office of a pending cremation. The Coroner will issue the permit authorizing cremation following review of the case. Either a medical certificate of death or a Coroner certificate of death must be completed prior to cremation. The State fee for issuing a cremation authorization is $50.

Certified Death Certificates: Certified death certificates must be obtained from the Jo Daviess County Clerk's Office. The Coroner's Office never issues certified death certificates.

Request for Records: Documents within the Coroner's Office are of public record. Anyone wishing to obtain a copy must submit their request to the Coroner in writing pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act.

Fees for Records:

- Copy of transcript sworn testimony: $5 per page
- Copy of autopsy report: $50
- Copy of toxicology report: $25
- Miscellaneous reports, including artist's drawings but not including police reports: actual costs or $25, whichever is greater

REGIONAL SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS CARROLL, JO DAVIESS, & STEPHENSON

Aaron Mercier, Regional Superintendent

Chris Shockey, Assistant Regional Superintendent

27 S. State Ave., Freeport, IL 61032

Website: www.roe8.com

The Regional Superintendent of School's office is responsible for providing both supervisory and educational support services to the school districts in Carroll, Jo Daviess, and Stephenson Counties. The mandated duties are prescribed by statute and the support services are developed to meet the needs of the local school districts in the three counties.

The Regional Office is the primary provider of school improvement and staff development services for the local school districts. From needs assessments and school improvement plans, workshops and in-services are developed and provided. Approximately a third of the teachers participate each year in office programs.

As an information resource, the Regional Office addresses a variety of questions daily from school personnel, the general public and board members. The questions range from routine inquiries to complex legal questions involving research and court cases.

The office serves as the starting point for the certification of all professional school personnel and assists them with the changing qualifications to work in the public schools. The office has over 5,000 active files. Through the annual registration process, the Regional Office identifies people who will be substitute teachers and coordinates the process for the required fingerprinting and criminal background checks.

The Regional Office is required to conduct an annual walk-through inspection of all school buildings using a State Board checklist and provides the local boards of education with a report. All new construction or remodeling must go through an approval process.

The High School Equivalency testing program provides people who did not complete high school with a second chance to receive a diploma. It serves students from age seventeen to their eighties. Well over 100 people each year receive their diploma through this program.

To improve the delivery of educational programming, the Regional Office develops and administers a variety of school district cooperatives and grants. The Regional Office serves as administrative agent for the Jo Daviess-Carroll Career Technical Education Academy (CTEA). State funding for vocational education programs comes through the Eagle Ridge Vocational Delivery System for which the Regional Office serves as administrative agent.

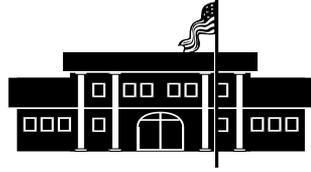

Under the Truants Alternative Program, the Regional Office is able to provide in-school support services to potential truants and parental follow-up to students who become truants. The Regional Office also operates, at two sites, an educational program for students who have either been suspended or expelled from their home schools to provide them with a second chance to receive an education and eventually return to their home schools to graduate.

As grantee under the State Child and Family Connections Program, the Regional Office provides support services to birth-to-three year old children who are identified with special needs. The ROE conducts an intake process and refers families to service providers based upon the child's needs. The Regional Office also administers the Preschool for All Grant, which provides parental education to parents of birth-to-three year old children and preschool programming for three-to-five year old children who are determined to be eligible based on a variety of risk factors.

Ryan Afflerbaugh, Information Technology Systems Manager

The Jo Daviess County GIS/IT Department is responsible for providing GIS services and products to County employees and officials as well as the general public, administration and continued development of the Jo Daviess County website, and information technology/computer network support for all County departments and offices. This department works under the supervision of the Jo Daviess County Board Information & Communication Technology Committee.

The Jo Daviess County Geographic Information System (GIS) was started in 1999 whereas the County moved from outsourced to in-house Information Technology (IT) support in 2006.

A GIS allows features of a map to be related to attribute information in a database, resulting in “intelligent maps.” A GIS consists of four major components: hardware, software, users, and data.

County employees and officials use the GIS in daily activities and through the decision-making process. The system provides products and services to users in both the private and public sectors. An online GIS website is also available.

GIS data is developed from a wide variety of formats. The Jo Daviess County GIS has many data sets including digital orthophotography, parcel ownership boundaries, corporate boundaries, road/street centerlines, topographic contours and soils.

The Jo Daviess County Geographic Information System offers many different products and services. The GIS/IT Department has a cost recovery policy in place to help maintain and continue developing the system. Please contact the GIS/IT Department or go to the County website at www.jodaviesscountyil.gov/gis for additional information.

BOARD OF REVIEW

*County Assessment Office
Jo Daviess County Courthouse
330 North Bench Street, Galena, IL 61036
Phone: 815-777-1016*

Each year the Board of Review convenes on or before the first Monday in June and adjourns when the work for that assessment year is completed and the assessment books are certified to the County Clerk.

The Board consists of three members appointed by the County Board. In order to qualify for the appointment a member must be qualified with experience and training in property appraisal.

Two members must be from the political party receiving the highest vote for the County office and one member from the political party receiving the second highest vote for County office.

The duties of the Board of Review members include adding omitted property and hearing all complaints on real property. All complaints of error in assessments must be made in writing on prescribed form to the Board of Review within 30 days after publication of assessments. (Reference is made to 35 ILCS 200/16-55, Illinois Compiled Statutes)

The Board of Review also has the duty of equalizing assessments by township within the county. The Board, on its own motion, may increase or reduce any assessment, as it determines is just. The Board issues certificates of error when an error in any assessment is discovered. They also are responsible for approving the non-homestead exemptions, homestead improvement exemption, the Senior Citizen Assessment Freeze Homestead Exemption, the Disabled Veterans' Standard Homestead Exemption and the Disabled Persons' Homestead Exemption.

ASSESSMENTS, LEVIES, RATES, AND TAXES

Assessments

The owners of real property on January 1st in any year shall be liable for the taxes of that year.

The County Clerk prepares assessment lists of lands and lots and delivers them to the Township Assessor on or before January 1st. The Township Assessor quadrennially reassesses all real property and annually makes necessary revisions. After the Township Assessors complete these duties, the assessment books are to be returned to the Chief County Assessment Officer. The C.C.A.O. may, after examining the assessments, apply an equalization factor to increase or decrease the assessments.

The C.C.A.O. publishes the complete assessment list of Real Property in quadrennial years and, in other years, Real Property to which assessments have been added or changed. The C.C.A.O audits and prepares the tax roll for the Board of Review.

The Board of Review meets on or before the first Monday in June for the purpose of reviewing property assessments and hearing assessment complaints of property owners. The Board of Review may apply an equalization factor to increase or decreased assessments in the county. After making the necessary revisions and publishing the same, the Board of Review shall turn over the revised assessment books to the County Clerk.

The County Clerk then abstracts the assessment books and compiles the assessed valuation of the various taxing districts and forwards it to the Illinois Department of Revenue.

The Department of Revenue may equalize the valuation and assessment of property in any county so that the valuation of property in any county is equalized with all others. This is done by the application of an equalization factor or "multiplier." The Department of Revenue also assesses railroad property located within the county and certifies the same to the County Clerk.

Levies

A certified copy of the annual tax levy for all taxing districts must be filed with the County Clerk by the last Tuesday of December.

Rates and Taxes

The County Clerk computes the tax rates of the various taxing districts by dividing the total assessed valuation, as equalized by the Department of Revenue of each district into the various amounts levied by the district; said rates being subjected to the limitations of the General Revenue Act.

The rates thus determined for the various districts in which the individual property lies are combined and multiplied by the assessed valuation, as equalized, to determine the individual tax bill.

The County Clerk then prepares the books for the County Collector, showing the taxpayer's name and address, property description, assessed valuation (as equalized), rate and amount of tax extended and certifies them to the collector.

After tax bills are mailed, the real estate taxes are payable in two installments, approximately June 1st and September 1st. The tax cycle takes one full year to complete so taxes paid are for the previous year.

All delinquent and unpaid taxes are, by law, to be offered for sale after publication and notification of the same.

HOW TOWNSHIPS WERE FORMED

While the Continental Congress met in Philadelphia's Independence Hall in the sultry spring and summer of 1776, local officials carried out important, but less dramatic directives mandated by their constituents at meetings held in town halls throughout New England colonies.

On that historic July day when liberty and independence were proclaimed, township government as we know it today had been serving colonial Americans for 140 years. From that moment, when the power of the people flowed from the town hall to Independence Hall and back, township government, freedom, and this nation's history have been intertwined.

Township government, established in Providence, Rhode Island in 1636, is the oldest existing unit of government continuing to serve on the North American continent. The wording of the Declaration of Independence reflects the fact that 38 of its 56 signers had experienced the benefit of township government.

The Declaration's statement that "government should derive its just powers from the consent of the governed" is demonstrated at the Annual Town Meeting held the second Tuesday of each April, still an important function of our nation's 17,000 townships after more than 360 years.

The Illinois Constitution of 1848 gave voters in each county the opportunity to adopt Township Government. By 1850, the first township governments began operation. Today, 85 of 102 Illinois counties operate under the township form of government and the 1,428 townships serve more than 8 million citizens

Most townships in Illinois today elect eight officials: a supervisor, a clerk, four trustees, an assessor and a highway commissioner. In five counties, Cook, Madison, Peoria, Sangamon and Will, tax collectors are also elected.

The supervisor, clerk, and trustees serve as the town board and are the legislative branch of the township government. The trustees set policy and procedures for the township supervisor and clerk to administer. The town board does not set policy or administer programs for the township road district or the assessor's office.

The township supervisor is the chief executive officer of the township and serves as the administrator of General Assistance, is the treasurer of town funds and is ex-officio treasurer for road and bridge funds.

The township clerk is the keeper of the records of the town, including those for the road district (highway) commissioner. The clerk must attest to signatures of the highway commissioner and the supervisor on most documents, keep an accurate record of proceedings of all meetings and is the official responsible for posting and/or publishing all notices and ordinances of the town.

The assessor appraises real property and maintains property record cards on all parcels in the township. The assessor sets property values in each township but does not levy taxes on those properties. Levies are made by the governing body of each unit of government (cities, townships, school districts, etc.) and tax rates are determined by the clerk of each county subject to statutory rate limits.

The highway (road district) commissioner is responsible for construction and maintenance of all roads and bridges that are not part of the federal, state, county or municipal road systems. Township Government maintains over 71,000 miles of roads in Illinois - a full 53 percent of all thoroughfares in the state

By law, Illinois townships are charged with three basic functions: 1) general assistance for the indigent; 2) the assessment of real property for the basis of local taxation; and 3) maintenance of all roads and bridges outside federal, state, and other local jurisdiction.

Townships provide food, shelter and emergency relief for needy people until they are able to support themselves. Many townships in Illinois operate food banks that guarantee the necessities of life for children.

Beyond the three mandated services, Township Government provides other vital services to the people next door. This may include senior citizens programs, youth programs, assistance to the disabled, parks and recreational facilities, health services and cemetery maintenance. In this regard, township government serves its neighbors from the cradle to the grave.

The Township Officials of Illinois (TOI) is the oldest state organization in the country representing township officials. It has been providing service to its members since 1907 and currently represents nearly 96 percent of the state's townships. The Association's magazine, "Township Perspective", published 11 times a year, is a valuable tool providing up-to-date information to its members. The Township Officials of Illinois has had a presence on the World Wide Web since June 1998. The TOI site (www.toi.org) is another useful source for township information.

The Housing Authority of Jo Daviess County was organized in June, 1947. The mission of the Housing Authority is to provide decent, safe and sanitary housing for low-income and elderly families at a cost they can afford.

The Housing Authority currently manages 104 low income housing units and 41 Housing Choice Vouchers. A portion of Housing Authority operating expenses is provided by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

The Public Housing Program operates a total of five apartment facilities in Jo Daviess County:

- Franklin McCoy Manor, Galena, 39 units (1 bedroom)
- Hanover Estates, Hanover, 13 units (1 bedroom)
- Meridian Manor, Warren, 15 units (1 bedroom)
- TOTAL UNITS: 104

The 1-bedroom apartment complexes include laundry facilities, community rooms and lounge areas for tenants' use. Units designed for individuals with disabilities are available in the Elizabeth, Hanover and

Warren facilities.

The Housing Choice Voucher Program provides eligible individuals and families with a monthly subsidy toward the rental of apartments owned by private property owners in Jo Daviess County. Applicants are required to locate their own housing, but they have the freedom of choice in its location. There are federal requirements regarding rent limits and housing quality standards.

Area Resource Services, NFP, was established in 2001 as a result of a strategic planning session held by the Housing Authority and the Jo Daviess County Board. It was established as a mechanism for the Housing Authority to achieve diversification and self-sufficiency. The establishment of Area Resource Services, NFP allows the Housing Authority to provide a broader range of services to an expanded service population.

Area Resource Services, NFP, owns and operates Mensendike Apartments at 287 Douglas Street, Warren, Illinois. The apartments consist of 8 units of USDA Rural Development Section 515 Property. The 8 units are 2-bedroom family units, 6 of which receive rental assistance through the USDA.

The Secretary of State manages one of the largest computer databases in Illinois, keeping track of approximately 8.7 million drivers; 11 million registered vehicles; 466,000 corporations; 230,000 limited liability entities; 159,000 registered securities sales-persons; and 16,000 investment advisor representatives. The office also is an important resource for educating citizens about issues that affect their everyday lives, including anti-drunk driving, traffic safety, school bus safety, securities fraud, literacy, and organ/tissue donation

Driver’s licenses and identification cards are issued to Illinois citizens at 121 driver services facilities throughout the state. Identification cards are free to anyone 65 years of age and older and to homeless and handicapped persons.

MARRIAGE & CIVIL UNION LICENSE INFORMATION

How to Apply

A couple who intend to be married or joined by civil union in Jo Daviess County must apply together, in person in the office of the Jo Daviess County Clerk, Jo Daviess County Courthouse, 330 N. Bench St., Galena, Illinois between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. It is important to note that a marriage or civil union license is only valid in the county in which it is issued. The application process takes approximately 20 to 30 minutes, so we ask that you arrive by 3:00 p.m.

- State of birth for the parents of both applicants
- Current addresses of applicants' parents.
- If either applicant was previously married, the date the marriage or civil union ended (month, day, year), how the marriage or civil union ended (divorce, death, etc.), and the County and State the divorce or death is recorded in.

Age Requirements

In order to be married or united in Illinois, you must be at least 16 years of age. Applicants that are 16 or 17 years of age must have their parents sign a consent form in the County Clerk's office. If it is not possible for your parents to sign the consent in this office, it may be done before the County Clerk in your parents' home county. Contact this office for details.

Fee

The fee is $50 for either a marriage license or a civil union. Cash or check only.

Procedure

A couple may NOT be married or united until one day after the license is issued and must be married or united within 61 days from the date of issuance. Either a member of the clergy or a judge may perform a marriage or civil union in Illinois.

If you plan to be married or united by a judge at the Courthouse, please contact the Circuit Clerk's office at (815) 777-0037 to check availability. Persons wishing to be married or united by a judge should make their arrangements in advance.

After the marriage or civil union, the person performing the ceremony must return the completed license to the County Clerk's office. If for any reason, you do not use the license, it is your responsibility to return it to the Clerk's office to be filed. Under no circumstances should a license be destroyed after it is issued.

Illinois law does not require witnesses.

For Further Information

Additional information is available by calling the County Clerk's office at 815-777-0161 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

ELECTION JUDGES

Election judges help to guarantee that the rights of voters are protected on Election Day.

Judges of election are responsible for the administration of election procedures in the polling place on Election Day. They are in the position of ensuring that the election process is administered fairly and in accordance with the laws.

An election judge must be a U.S. citizen, of good repute and character, able to speak, read and write the English language, be skilled in the four fundamental rules of math, be of good understanding and capable and not be a candidate for any office in the election or be an elected committeeman. A judge must reside and be entitled to vote in the precinct where selected to serve; however, in each precinct one judge of each party may be appointed from outside the precinct but from the county.

Judges are selected by the county board from lists furnished by the county central committee of the Republican and Democratic parties. After selections are made, a report is filed in the circuit court and application is made for their confirmation and appointment by the circuit court.

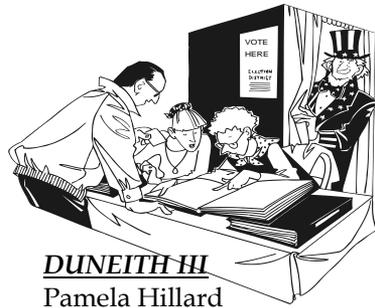

Training courses and examinations are conducted for the judges, testing their reading skills, ability to add and knowledge of election laws governing the operation of the polling places.

Some of the duties and responsibilities include opening and closing the polls, caring for all election materials, ensuring that only qualified voters are permitted to vote and that each qualified voter is permitted to vote once and only once, ensuring that all votes are cast in secret and giving instructions in the method of voting when requested by a voter.

Duties also include giving assistance to illiterate and physically disabled voters, maintaining order in the polling place throughout the day and preparing the ballots to be tallied after the polls are closed.

Election judges are vital to the conduct of efficient and honest elections to which voters are entitled.

DEPUTY REGISTRARS

The work of deputy registrars is a vital contribution to American democracy. Registering voters encourages voter participation and enhances our electoral process.

Only election authorities (local county clerks) or appointed deputy registrars may register persons to vote. Municipal clerks, township/road district clerks, Secretary of State Drivers Service Facility employees and precinct committeeman may automatically serve as registrars.

Bona fide state civic organization members, bona fide state labor organization members, chief librarians, high school/vocational school principals and some state officers may also be appointed as registrars.

Deputy registrars may accept voter registrations at any time except during the 28-day period before each election. Registration is also closed until two days after each election.

Deputy registrars must be trained, take an oath and be appointed as provided by state law. They are appointed for two-year terms and can be removed from the position for just cause. Registrars are not allowed to engage in any kind of political activity while registering voters.

An application for voter registration may be made when applying for service at any of the driver licensing facilities, in offices providing public assistance or assistance to the disabled or by mail. When applying for voter registration at these entities, no identification is required and the applicant's signature is not witnessed. The applicant is not registered to vote unless the county clerk determines that the applicant is qualified to vote.

The following persons have completed training and serve as Deputy Registrars in Jo Daviess County.
