If the KWIC system is temporarily unavailable to automatically calculate income eligibility, refer to the following:

How to figure Income Eligibility

- If a household has only one income source, or if all sources have the same frequency (e.g. two incomes, but both people get paid bi-weekly = same frequency):
  - Then compare the income, or the sum of the separate incomes to the Income Eligibility Chart above for the appropriate frequency and household size to make the WIC Income Eligibility determination.

- If a household reports income sources at more than one frequency (e.g. one person gets paid weekly while the other person gets bi-weekly = different frequency):
  - Then annualize all income by multiplying
    - Weekly income X 52
    - Biweekly income (every 2 weeks) X 26
    - Semimonthly income (twice a month) X 24
    - Monthly income X 12

  - Do not round the values resulting from each conversion.
  - Add together all the unrounded, converted values.
  - Compare the total to the Income Eligibility Chart above (annual income for the appropriate household size) to make the final income eligibility determination.
