

Police force has new canine team

he Lynwood Police Department has a new canine unit team: Officer Luke Tambrini and his dog partner Dante.

Patrolman Tambrini and Dante recently completed six weeks of special training at the Paw Palace dog facility in Lynwood before assuming their police canine duties.

Tambrini has been a member of the Village police force for two years. Dante is a 15-month-old Dutch shepherd breed that came to the Police Department from Ontario, Canada, where he received his initial training.

Dante lives with Tambrini, his wife and baby daughter when not on duty. "Dante is part of our family," the policeman said. "Dante and I developed an excellent rapport during the training sessions," Tambrini said.

Canine units are deployed for narcotics detection, criminal suspect and evidence searches, rescue operations, and additional police activities.

Route 30 railroad bridge project to improve traffic flow, safety nitial work is underway on a $29.6 million project to construct a highway bridge over the current Canadian National Railway crossing at U.S. Route 30 in Lynwood.

When completed, the Route 30 (Lincoln Highway) overpass will improve traffic flow and safety. The average daily traffic volume along U.S. 30 at the Canadian National Railroad crossing is 29,400 vehicles, with more than 30 passing trains per day.

"Route 30 motorists no longer will have to wait for passing trains on this heavily traveled highway through our community," Mayor Eugene Williams said.

Motorists going to and from Indiana use the Illinois section of Route 30 in Lynwood. The federal Surface Transportation Board ruled that a railroad grade separation is needed to prevent traffic tie-ups.

The project will eliminate traffic delays, and reduce the potential for train, vehicle and bicycle accidents by eliminating the at-grade crossing. The work also will improve emergency vehicle response times in the area.

The major construction work to build the overpass will take place in 2015-16. The project will include a shared-use path for bicyclists and pedestrians on the overpass structure. The Illinois Department of Transportation is overseeing the project.

The Canadian National attenc Railroad is paying $23.2 million of the cost, with the state of Illinois providing $6.4 million. During the work the at-grade crossing will remain open for vehicle and train traffic. "There will be two s the year 2014 comes to a close in Lynwood, I wish to recount from the Village's perspective some highlights of the past 12 months.

At the request of many of our residents, the Board of Trustees gave its approval to several measures that improve Village operations and benefit our residents. The Village has changed its municipal utilities billing to a monthly system, which makes household budgeting easier and more convenient. The Village also has begun accepting credit and bank debit cards for municipal transactions, including paying for village stickers, utilities bills and permit charges.

Work on a new Lynwood Comprehensive Plan was completed in 2014 and adopted by the Village Board. This is the official document that will guide future growth and development of our Village. For example, the new plan will be extremely helpful to our community in attracting economic development related to the anticipated extension of Joe Orr Road and future Downtown development opportunities.

In June Russell L. Pearson, former police chief, was appointed to head the Department again. A 34-year Police Department veteran, Pearson's law enforcement experience and leadership skills enhance the chief's office. His personal knowledge of the community is based on his more than three decades of police service here in the Village of Lynwood.

The start of the project to build a Route 30 bridge over the busy Canadian National Railway crossing in Lynwood is very positive news for our town. We are proud that Governor Patrick Quinn attended the groundbreaking ceremony for the bridge project.

There is good news to report about the expectations of home building here to resume due to a new developer taking possession of the Wellington Court subdivision. Although we didn't completely escape the impact of the national housing crisis and the recession that followed, we did better than many of the communities that surround us. The Wellington Court development may be a sign of an even brighter housing forecast for the Village.

I wish to thank the members of our Village Board and our Village employees for their hard work throughout the year. Village officials and employees are committed in their efforts to continue to improve the Lynwood quality of life our citizens expect.

On behalf of the members of the Board of Trustees, I wish a Merry Christmas and a happy, healthy and prosperous 2015 for all.

Engene Williams

HOME CONSTRUCTION IN 2015 Wellington Court has new developer

G ood economic development news to report: New home construction is expected to start again in a Lynwood subdivision.

Investors have purchased the Wellington Court property, which had been in foreclosure. The subdivision is located at 201st Street and Torrence Avenue.

The phase one section of the Wellington Court development includes 36 occupied residences, four model homes and three designer homes that are ready for sale, and 44 vacant lots available for home construction. New home building is expected in 2015. Lynwood Public Works Director Robert Myers said phase two of the development has 101 buildable lots. Infrastructure work is required in the phase two section of the property before home building begins. No home construction has taken place at Wellington Court for approximately four years, Myers said.

NEW LYNWOOD BUSINESS Paw Palace treats dogs with very special care aw Palace, a new business in Lynwood, offers dog owners a range of services, including suites for boarding a pet.

The Paw Palace facility, located at 2739 Glenwood-Dyer Road, provides day care, grooming, training and boarding services. In addition to four individual dog suites, there are 54 kennels, an indoor training arena, outdoor play and training spaces, and a nature path around a small lake on the property.

"Our staff gives friendly, boa constant attention to each dog," said Jerry Jumonville, manager. "We want a pet owner to feel confident knowing that the dog's experience here will be healthy and positive," Jumonville said. Dogs receive twice-a-day structured playtime.

The facility features heated suite and kennel floors for dog comfort and a state-of-the-art ventilation system. "A wood burning floor heating system was installed because of its efficient operation and green environmental technology," said Dan Wondaal, one of the Paw Palace owners.

The suites are furnished with flat screen televisions and cameras. The televisions can be tuned to a dog channel and have a calming effect. The camera system allows an owner to view his pet at Paw Palace from a home computer or smart phone. Due to the popularity of the suites, an expansion project to add at least six more of them is planned for the spring, Wondaal said.

Storm Water Awareness

The Clean Water Act was passed in 1972 by the U.S. Congress to control pollutants that were being dumped into our nation's waterways. The Clean Water Act gave the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency the authority to set standards for industry pollution. The act also made it unlawful for an individual to pollute a waterway.

The Clean Water Act's main goal is to restore and maintain the chemical, physical and biological integrity of the nation's waters so they will support fish, shellfish, wildlife and recreation.

No pollutants in storm drains

Help keep pollution out of storm drains. Storm drains and roadside ditches lead directly to lakes, rivers, creeks and streams. Oil, leaves, debris and even dirty water from cleaning cars that enter a storm drain get into our waterways. We all need to be aware of what goes into our storm drains.

Many people believe storm drains are connected to sanitary sewer systems and that storm water is treated at sewage treatment plants. This is not true. Storm water is not treated. People carelessly dump many pollutants like motor oil, pesticides and paint into storm drains. Nonpoint source pollution is ranked as a major ecological risk because it poses a significant threat to birds, fish and other aquatic life that live in or rely on waterways.

Please help keep storm drains clean and help keep storm drains clear of debris, especially during storm events. A citizen who sees someone dumping into a sewer drain should please notify the Public Works or Police Departments.

Helpful advice and updates from the Public Works Department

Snowplows ready

The Lynwood Public Works Department began readiness of its fleet of snow removal vehicles in October to be prepared for winter weather.

The Public Works Department has five large dump trucks outfitted with V-box salt spreaders and 11-foot plows. It also has two one-ton dump trucks with plows and road salting equipment

The Public Works trucks push snow from the middle of the street to the curb line onto parkways, and, as a consequence, onto residential driveways. Please remember it is against Village ordinance to shovel or blow snow from a driveway or sidewalk back onto the street. Snow should be shoveled or blown onto a parkway. Dumping snow onto a street could result in a ticket, and it will be plowed right back onto a driveway. The Public Works Department appreciates resident cooperation keeping vehicles off streets during snow events so plowing crews can do their work.

The cost of salt has almost tripled this year, but the Public Works Department has more than 1,500 tons of salt in storage, ready for use. However, depending on the weather, salt will be used sparingly at times in order to make sure there is enough to last all winter.

Is mailbox secure?

that residents check their mailboxes for the winter snowfall season to verify that all parts are connected securely, that the mailbox is not leaning over the curb (which is a violation of the Village mailbox ordinance), and that it is secured on its post in the ground.

The Public Works Department is not responsible for mailboxes damaged by snow being plowed from streets to parkways. Snow and slush thrust from a moving plow can hit a mailbox with great force, causing loose parts to fall off and posts to be knocked over if not securely fastened. Therefore, please make every effort to make those repairs required to secure your mailbox prior to the snow removal season.

Holiday trash pickup of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas Day. When a holiday occurs prior to garbage pickup day,

ASH TREE REMOVAL

Public Works Department crew leader Grant Luff cuts down an ash tree infected with the emerald ash borer insect. Placing the cut branches through a wood chipper are Public Works employees Sylvester Robinzine and Glenn Vander Woude. More than 320 infected trees on Village parkways have been identified and marked for removal. Public Works Director Robert Myers said the removal project will continue through the winter, weather permitting. At this time, the infected trees are being cut down as close to ground level as possible. If residents wish, they may contract with a private firm to have tree stumps removed.

collection will be delayed one day. If a holiday occurs on a Saturday, Homewood Disposal will observe it on the prior Friday; if the holiday falls on a Sunday, the firm observes it on the following Monday.

Utilities bill reminder

Residents will incur a late fee for municipal utilities bills not paid by the monthly due date. The Village bills are mailed at the beginning of a month and due on the 15th of each month, or the next business day if the 15th falls on a weekend. If a bill is not paid by the regular due date, a 10% late fee is added to the bill and the Village mails a reminder notice requesting payment. Failure to pay the bill may result in disconnection of water service. Please provide the Village Water Department with a contact telephone number in case of a bill payment emergency.

Village dog ordinance The Village has received complaints that people are walking their dogs without a leash in Village parks and not cleaning up after pets. The Village is enforcing an ordinance that requires that dogs be leashed and that owners must have the necessary supplies to pick up after dogs and must do so. Warning signs are erected in parks. Tickets will be issued to pet owners who violate the ordinance. Please help us keep our parks clean for everyone to enjoy.
