McLeod County Demographic & Economic Profile

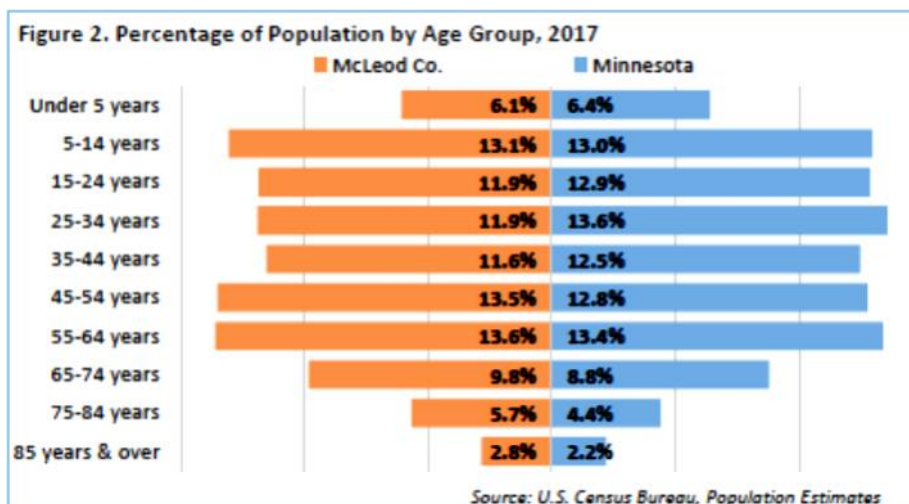

Source: Minnesota Department of Employment and Economic Development (<http://www.mn.gov/deed/data/>)

Demographic Characteristics

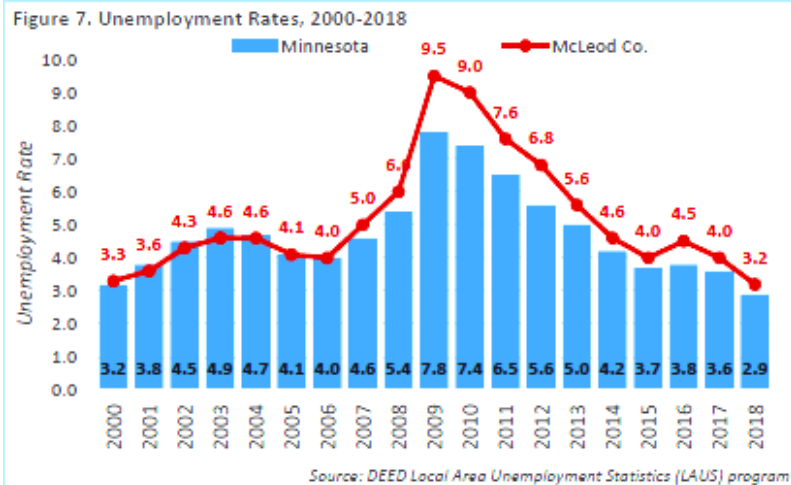

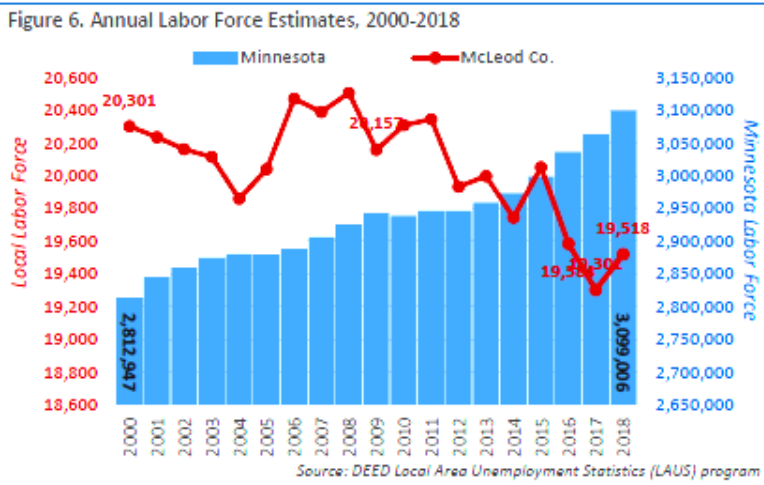

With 35,884 people in 2017, McLeod County is the 29th largest county out of 87 counties in the state of Minnesota. The County experienced a population decline of 767 people over the last decade, a 2.1% decrease since 2010. In comparison, the state of Minnesota gained about 272,681 people from 2010 to 2017, a 5.1% increase. McLeod County's recent population decline is a shift from the a long-term growth trend. Over the last half century, McLeod County welcomed 8,222 people (+29.7%), from 27,662 people in 1970 to 35,884 people in 2017. In comparison, Minnesota grew 46.6% over the last 50 years.

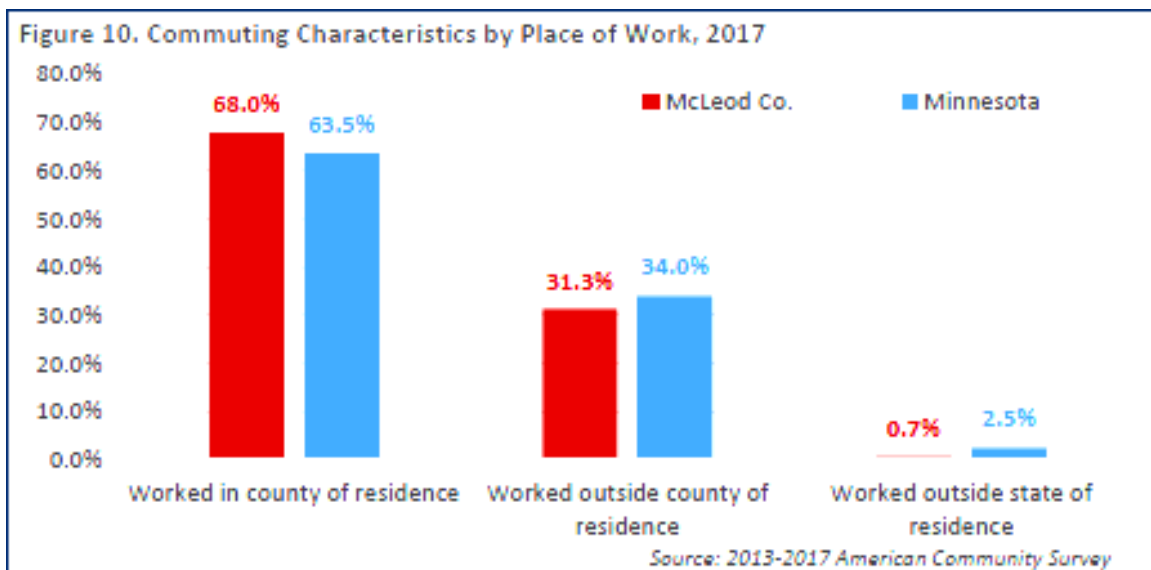

According to the data from the American Community Survey, McLeod County has a slightly older population than the state of Minnesota. About 31.1% of the population was under 25 years of age, as compared to 32.3% in the state. Despite the presence of a 2-year post secondary institution, McLeod County has a slightly lower percentage of young adults in the 15 to 24-year old (11.9%) age group than the state (12.9%). As of 2017, about 37% of McLeod County's population was in their prime working years, of 24 to 54 years of age, as compared to 38.9% statewide. McLeod County has a slightly higher percentage of people in the 55 and older (31.9%) compared to the state (28.8%).

The size of McLeod County’s labor force has been volatile over the last decade. With 19,518 available workers in 2018, McLeod County lost about 987 workers since 2008, when it had 20,505 workers, a – 4.8% decrease. In comparison, Minnesota’s labor force grew 5.9% from 2008 to 2018, a gain of just under 174,000 workers. Fortunately, the number of unemployed workers went up down the last 10 years, leading to lower unemployment rates in the county. McLeod County’s rate peaked at 9.5% in 2009, before falling back to 3.2% in 2018, only slightly higher than the State’s rate of 2.9%.

About 68% of McLeod County working residents both lived and worked within the county. With Hutchinson as a regional employment center, workers drive in from surrounding counties including Meeker, Renville, Sibley, and Wright Counties. At the same time, residents from McLeod County also drive to other counties for work, primarily the Twin Cities metro area. Travel times in McLeod County are slightly shorter in comparison with other Twin Cities metro fringe counties, with 73% of the workers commuting less than 30 minutes one way in 2017 compared to 68.6% in the State. Only 16% McLeod County working residents drive 45 minutes or more.

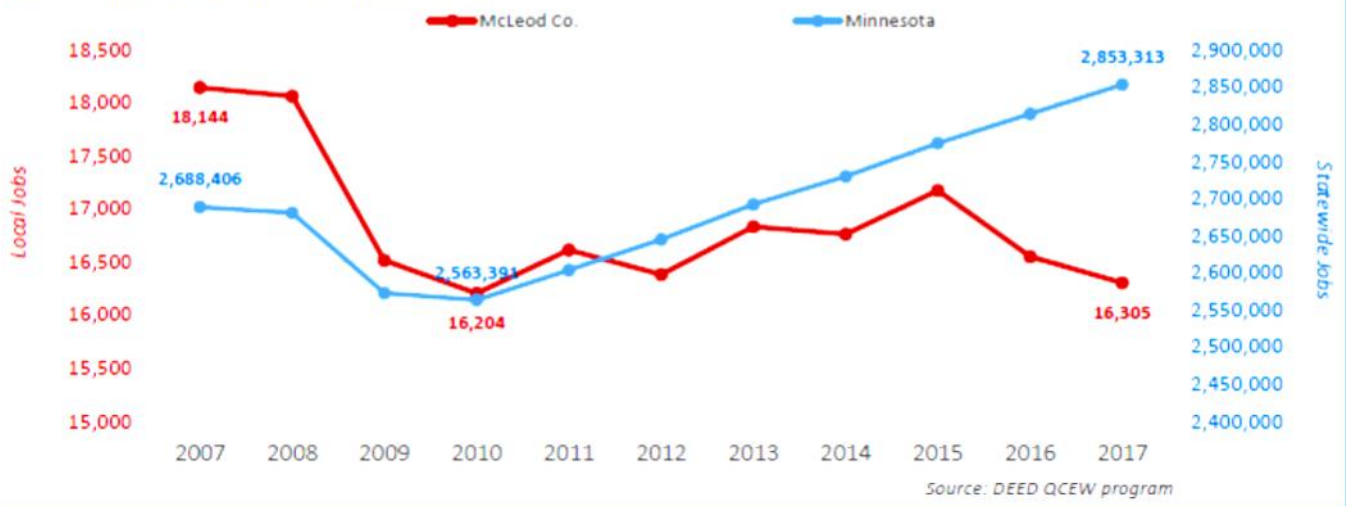

Industry Employment Characteristics

Through 2017, McLeod County was home to 910 business establishments with 16,305 covered jobs, paying out average annual wages of $45,007. During the time period of 2012-2017, the County has lost 78 jobs, down 0.5%. This is different than the State trend of growth, with a 7.9% job growth during the same period.

	2017 Annual Data				2012-2017		2016-2017
	Number of Firms	Number of Jobs	Total Payroll	Avg. Annual Wages	Change in Jobs	Percent Change	Change in Jobs	Percent Change
McLeod Co.	910	16,305	$733,833,311	$45,007	-78	-0.5%	-247	-1.5%
State of Minnesota	167,485	2,853,730	$160,254,656,806	$56,156	208,795	7.9%	39,728	1.4%

Biscay: The village of Biscay is situated in Hassan Valley. Historically it will be renowned as the site of the first creamery in the state of Minnesota.

Brownton: Brownton came into being in 1878. It received its name from Captain Alonzo Brown in honor of his brother Charles who died in the battle of Corinth, during the Civil War.

Glencoe: Glencoe was founded in 1855. John Harrington Stevens, the founder and Martin McLeod as guide set out exploring. After five days they came to a prairie, It was here on Buffalo Creek they settled “the prairie peninsula in the big woods” as the site of Glencoe. It was the first settlement in McLeod County.

Hutchinson: In September of 1855, three Hutchinson brothers, John, Judson, and Asa, began singing their way to Kansas. At Rockford, Illinois they met an old New England acquaintance, W.W. Pendargast who had visited Minnesota. They traveled and on November 19th, they reached the top of a hill and saw a sparkling winding river with gentle rolling prairie land. They ended their journey and on November 21st they traveled to Glencoe to establish the Hutchinson Townsite Company.

Lester Prairie: Lester Prairie is the youngest village in McLeod County. The first settlers arrived in 1856. The village was practically destroyed by the Sioux Uprising of 1862. On April 10, 1897, the Crow River and Buffalo Creek went on a rampage and Lester Prairie was washed away.

Plato: Plato is one of the thriving smaller cities of McLeod County. In 1888, the town filed the petition for incorporation. It lies in the heart of one of the most prosperous farming districts in the state.

Silver Lake: In 1874, a few houses had been built in the town known as Freemont. John J. Jerabek, John Mimms, and John S. Totusek bought a store from Theodore Mimms in 1881 and laid out the townsite of Silver Lake.

Stewart: After founding Hutchinson and Glencoe, home seekers began to venture south and west. There were two outstanding reasons for the later settlement around Stewart. The first being the timbered lands where fuel and wood for buildings was accessible. The second, the settlers were closer to the main avenue of communications, steamboat traffic.

Winsted: The village of Winsted was founded on July 30, 1857 when Eli Lewis purchased the land north of Main Avenue from Baptiste Campbell, a half Sioux Indian. The County Commissioners gave the name of Winsted to the town on April 5, 1858, after a vote was taken in the township.
