Hi Mark,

Hope you're doing well. I live off Fuller St. in Canton. I'm writing to express concerns about the uptick in flight activity in our neighborhood. The last two days have seen a significant volume of planes and helicopters. I was hoping to understand why there is such a high volume of activity in this area. Within the half hour, I had to mute my business call because Cobalt Air Flight 3311 flew right over my home at an incredibly low altitude.

Our neighborhood directly abuts a large area of conservation land and a commercial business park (which also abuts two 18 hole golf courses and the highway). Is there any way to slightly shift flight traffic in that direction as opposed to flying so close to residential homes?

Appreciate your time and consideration,
David
