

CITY OF OAK PARK - THE FAMILY CITY

2014 CALENDAR & ANNUAL REPORT

Dear Oak Park Residents:

As a result of several major accomplishments in the past year, the great City of Oak Park enters the New Year with incredible momentum. We owe our gratitude to the enduring support of our residents; our city employees who have tenaciously mastered the art of doing more with less; the excellent guidance of our city manager, Erik Tungate, and his management team; and city council's ability to make hard and often unpopular decisions that keep the city moving forward.

Celebration of New Beginnings

We are a city that welcomes new ideas and options with optimism. Many of you joined in the grand opening celebration of our 43,000 sq. ft., state-of-the-art municipal complex last fall. The new facility serves as a symbol of our city's rebirth; it weaves the essence of our proud past with the bright promise of our future.

The City of Oak Park is fast becoming home to best practices, strategic planning and collaboration. Last year, we engaged more residents in shaping the city's agenda than we have in many years. Consequently, we gave life to an economic development vision that will bring energy to our business district and increase job opportunities in Oak Park. One of the strategies includes the passage of a tavern license ordinance, which will allow our qualifying, local restaurants to add beer and wine to the menu. Extensive studies show that we can expect increased patronage as a result, thus inviting additional revenue into the city.

We will continue to seek community input as we expand on our economic development strategy this year. It will take all of us to actualize the vision, which includes new industry attraction, an increase in small business presence and attractive storefronts; as well as enhanced parks and pedestrian-friendly streets with added boulevards, bike lanes and wider sidewalks.

Community Involvement

It makes me extremely proud to see such strong resident involvement in our 21 City Council-appointed boards and commissions, which serve a vital function in democratic government. Every year, for example, our Independence Day Commission hosts one of the best parades in the region. Very few communities rival the excellent events and programs presented by our Arts & Cultural Commission, including the artists' expo and several musical events held at our newly-renovated library last year. Early forecasts indicate that we can expect more of the same commitment to quality events this year.

Hundreds of residents and visitors from neighboring communities made weekly visits to the Oak Park Farm Stand and attended the Oak Park Art Fair & Summer Splash in our community center complex this past summer. We also had excellent participation at our "Shop Oak Park Holiday Bazaar," in November, where the city showcased neighborhood businesses and encouraged consumers to buy locally.

We have several new, partnership opportunities headed our way in 2014. The City of Oak Park has been selected to participate in the Detroit Institute of Art's Inside/Out program, which will bring reproductions of masterpieces from the museum's collection to our streets for our residents to enjoy this coming summer. In 2013, Oakland County also named Oak Park as an associate member of the Main Street of Oakland County program, which increases our access to resources relative to some of the critical economic development plans we will pursue this year.

Infrastructure Improvements

A recent community survey revealed that residents overwhelmingly approve of the quality services provided by Oak Park Public Safety, Public Works and Recreation. Last year, Oak Park voters enabled the city to hire six, additional Public Safety officers with the passage of a millage. We also added new code officers to fight blight and to reinforce standards relative to our city's rental properties. This coming year, the city's economic growth plan generates the need for continued expansion of our Public Safety and Code Enforcement departments.

We enhanced resident communication last year by developing several means of information exchange, including a bimonthly newsletter that reaches more than 14,000 mailboxes in the Oak Park zip code; Community e-Blasts via email; regular messages from the leadership and special events broadcast on city-run Comcast stations 15 and 16; and social media presence with daily messages about services and events via Facebook and Twitter. This year, we will continue to fine-tune our technological communication, including the city's web site and cable television programming.

Climbing Higher

We are strengthened by our past, sustained by our present, and propelled by our future. We have achieved a solid foundation for the work ahead of us, thanks to the dedication of the City of Oak Park's most important stakeholders – our residents, city staff and city council. I have no doubt that we will continue to climb higher. I look forward to the progress we will achieve together this year.

Sincerely,

Marian McClellan
