INTRODUCTION

The City of Oak Park's Five Year Parks and Recreation Master Plan for year's 2018 – 2022, is an update from the previous Five Year Master Plan of 2006 – 2010 and an extension of the City of Oak Park's Master Plan. The Parks and Recreation Master Plan is based on a planning process that involved input from the community, stakeholders, and staff. This plan is built upon the needs, concerns and wishes of all these groups. This plan contains key findings and information gathered from the recently completed community survey, public meetings, demographic analysis, current, historic and future information and trends, and a comprehensive inventory and analysis of existing parks, facilities, recreation programs, and maintenance operations. This Five Year Master Plan is intended to meet the state requirements for community recreation planning that are necessary to gain eligibility for funding through the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. In addition, this plan serves as a tool to guide the Parks and Recreation Departments, over the next five years, to better serve the community and provide quality parks, facilities and programs.

COMMUNITY DESCRIPTION

OAK PARK: YESTERDAY, TODAY, AND TOMORROW

THE PLACE

The City of Oak Park is centrally located within Metro Detroit and benefits from convenient freeway access. The City encompasses 5.18 square miles and is predominantly comprised of single-family residences. Almost all of Oak Park's residents are within two miles of the city center. Oak Park is known for its tight-knit neighborhoods, tree-lined streets, and wooded parks. The large, centrally located David H. Shepherd Park hosts the City's major events like the annual Fourth of July festivities, Boo Bash and Summerfest. There are nine smaller neighborhood parks that serve the neighborhoods. Once known as the "Family City", Oak Park has been rebranded to "Community, Culture and Commerce" and adopted a new vision. "The City of Oak Park will lead the region as the most dynamic city in metropolitan Detroit, serving as a destination for vibrant, cutting-edge community life." This new branding is a better representation of the City of Oak Park today.

THE PEOPLE

The 2010 U.S. Census states Oak Park's population is approximately 29,319 people. The average number of persons per household is 2.50 and is expected to decrease to 2.48 over the next five years. The number of households with children under 18 years is less than 30%. According to the 2013 Oak Park Retail Market Study, the primary trade area population is expected to drop by 2% between 2013 and 2018. The median household income of $40,200 in the primary trade area is modest compared to regional and state levels; however, it is estimated to increase at an annual rate of 3.98% to $48,900 in 2018. The largest employment sectors in the primary trade area are service (52.7%), retail trade (14.1%), and manufacturing (6%). An economic boost from new retail could create positive demographic changes. The Retail Market Study discovered the most prominent lifestyle groups in Oak Park's primary trade area portray a cluster of aging residents and established, community-oriented families. Lifestyle tendencies of Oak Park residents include being active in the community, attending church, helping with fundraising projects, and participating in civic activities. The diversity in Oak Park's population makes it an interesting place to live and visit. The strong Jewish, African-American, Chaldean, and Arab populations provide an eclectic mix of race, culture, and religion in a relatively small land area. This diversity is exciting and provides a strong marketing base.

THE INFRASTRUCTURE

Oak Park has a solid foundation upon which to build. It has a strong tradition of affordable homes, stable neighborhoods, recreational amenities, good local schools, and a central location. Ensuring the pieces are in place to create a viable, vibrant, and attractive place for economic activity involves looking at the city's physical infrastructure and the degree to which the physical environment facilitates economic activity. Most major roads in Oak Park have been repaired or replaced within the last ten years; their ability to connect people to goods and services offered in the community is unquestionable. Traffic flow, parking arrangements, and non-motorized transit play a huge role in economic activity, and when planned carefully, their benefits can also improve the health of residents and the environment.

Oak Park is similar to other suburban communities throughout the country, with a development pattern that expanded for 50 years only to result in declining properties, lifeless business parks, and empty storefronts. Many communities are responding to the changing suburban markets and consumer preferences by transforming their auto-dependent landscapes into more sustainable, urban places - a trend called "retrofitting suburbia".

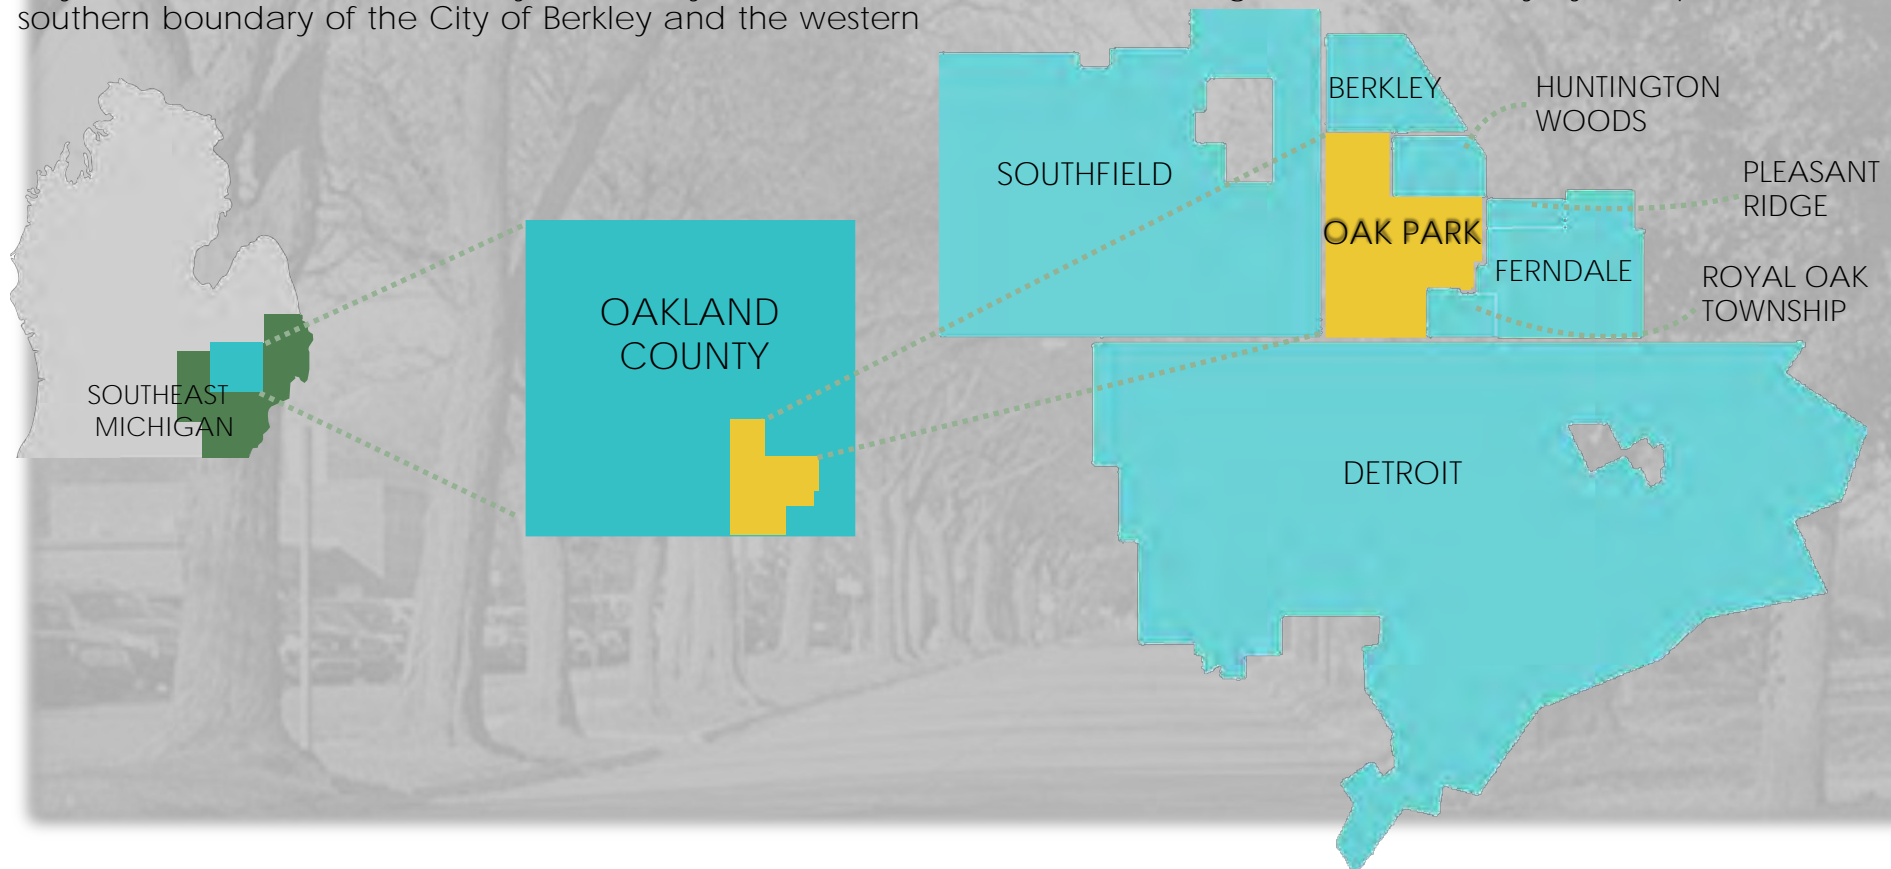

Today, Oak Park lacks the urban qualities other communities have that attract young people. While finding new uses for old structures is one strategy, the most effective redevelopments are considered those that retrofit the streets, blocks, and lots to provide environments designed for pedestrians, density, and a mix of uses. The Nine Mile Redesign Plan suggests creating a more urban, walkable environment by implementing a "road diet" on Nine Mile Road.

REGIONAL SETTING

The City of Oak Park was named the “fastest growing city” in the country in the late 1950's. It is optimally located in southeastern Oakland County with easy access to many freeways and highways. Freeway and regional highway access are provided by I-696, US-10, and M-102. These provide regional connections to I-75, the Southfield Freeway, and Woodward Avenue to name a few. Oak Park is adjacent to the north boundary of the City of Detroit, eastern boundary to the City of Southfield, southern boundary of the City of Berkley and the western boundaries of the cities of Ferndale, Pleasant Ridge, Huntington Woods, and the Charter Township of Royal Oak.

Oak Park developed as one of the inner ring suburbs of Detroit and incorporated in 1945. The City annexed a portion of Royal Oak Township north of Ten Mile Road in 2003 and another portion north of Ten Mile Road in 2004, thus increasing the size of the City by .14 square miles.

HISTORY

First surveyed in 1817, the area was described to territorial governor Lewis Cass as “irreclaimable and must remain forever unfit for culture or occupation, and their obvious destiny must be to remain in the possession of wild beasts.” After camping the area, Governor Cass named the township Royal Oak due to the great Royal Oak trees. The area that now makes up the City of Oak Park was located in the southwest corner of then Royal Oak Township, and was known as marshlands because of its muddy, swampy make-up.

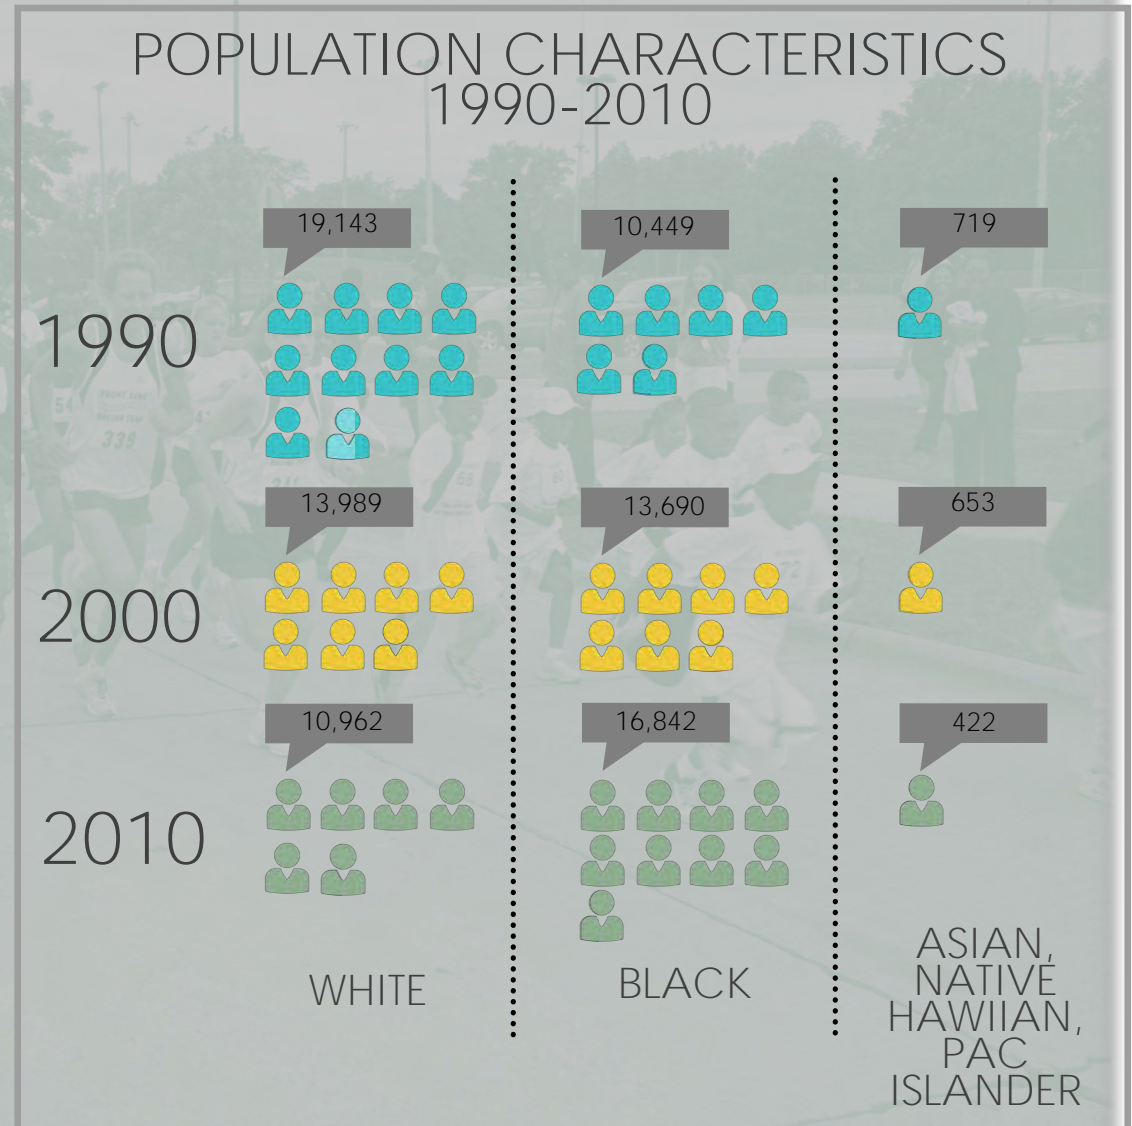

Over the years Oak Park grew from a swampy corner of Royal Oak Township to an independent village, and eventually an incorporated city. In 1945, the new City's first elected body branded it the "City with a Future." Its population grew impressively after WWII, when veterans returned with home loan guarantees through the G.I. Bill. By the 1950s residential construction had accelerated so much that Oak Park was acknowledged as Detroit's first northwest-corridor suburb, and the nation's fastest-growing city. As the City grew over the years its largely residential nature fueled a new motto: "The Family City." To many, its network of beautifully tree-lined streets, numerous parks, and tight-knit neighborhoods will forever validate this motto. In 2013, to reflect the City's progressive nature and strong resolve to provide a high quality of life for all residents City Council adopted a fresh set of goals within the three tenants "Community, Culture, and Commerce," the City's new motto.

COMMUNITY PROFILE

The Community Profile examines a variety of information from the U. S. Census and the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) to provide a snapshot of the people living in the City of Oak Park and a forecast for the future. This examination of demographic information is useful in understanding present and future community needs. Furthermore, it provides the City the necessary data to develop plans that guide Oak Park in properly serving its residents.

POPULATION CHARACTERISTICS

In the 1950's the City of Oak Park was one of the fastest growing communities in the United States going from a population of 5,267 to 36,632 by 1960, a phenomenal increase of over 350%. Since the 1970 Census high of 36,762, the population of Oak Park has been steadily decreasing to its 2010 Census count of 29,319. According to the SEMCOG 2040 Forecast the trend will continue and the population will further decrease to 26,981 by 2040. This decrease in population is consistent with population decreases in the communities neighboring Oak Park and is in large part due to reductions in household sizes seen across the nation.

Graphic 1 Population Forecast

RACE AND ETHNIC ORIGINS

From the 1990 Census to the 2010 Census the City of Oak Park has seen a demographic shift from a population with a White majority (62.8% in 1990) to one with a Black or African American majority (57.1% in 2010). Over that same time period the Asian population decreased from 2.4% to 1.4%. The Hispanic population remained steady from 2000 to 2010 at 1.4% of the overall population.

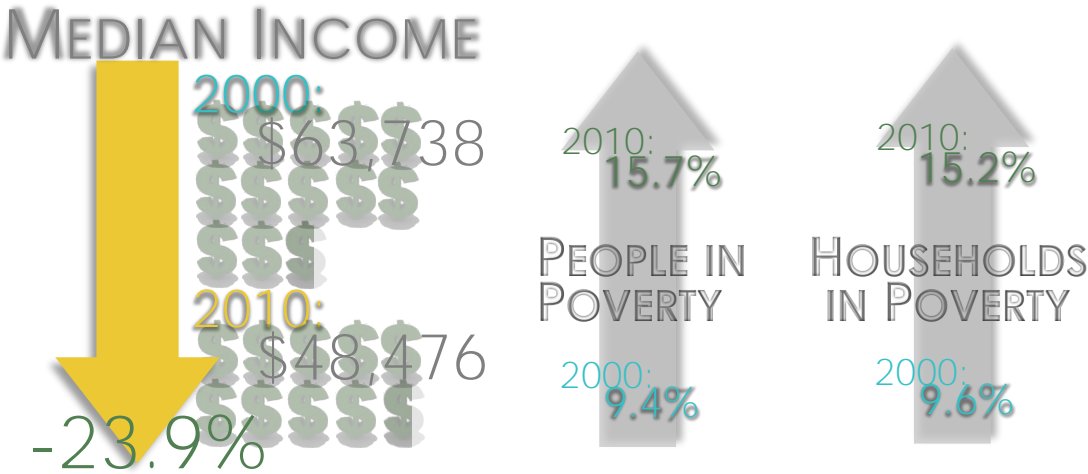

AGE

From the 1990 Census to the 2010 Census the median age of the City's population has increased from 32.8 (1990) to 34.6 (2000) to 37.5 (2010). The increased median age is a reflection of rising life expectancy and lower birth rates. This is a worldwide phenomenon with the aged population currently the highest level in human history. In Oak Park, this can be seen in the population forecasts for the youngest two age groups, with decreases of 11.7% (under age 5) and 26.6% (5 to 17 years of age) from the 2000 Census to the 2040 projection. Conversely, the 65 years and older age category dramatically increases from 3,626 to 7,203, a 90.8% increase, from the 2000 Census to the 2040 forecasted number.

HOUSEHOLD INCOME

The Oak Park Median Household Income in 2010 was $48,476 (5-Yr ACS 2010) a drop of $15,262 (-23.9%) from 2000. Comparatively, the median household income in 2010 was $53,242 for Southeast Michigan as a region, $51,201 for Southfield, $50,273 for Ferndale, and $34,873 for Hazel Park. The number of persons in poverty increased to 15.7% (4,700) in 2010 and the number of Households in poverty rose to 15.2% (1,776) in Oak Park according to the 2010 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimates.

HOUSEHOLDS

As defined by the 2010 U.S. Census, “a household includes all the persons who occupy a housing unit as their usual place of residence. A housing unit is a house, an apartment, a mobile home, a group of rooms, or a single room that is occupied (or if vacant, is intended for occupancy) as living quarters.” According to the SEMCOG 2040 Forecast both the number of Housing Units and the number of Households will remain constant through the year 2040 in Oak Park. This is mostly a function of the fact that the City is “built out” and there is relatively little opportunity for new housing construction on a large scale.

HOUSEHOLDS

	CENSUS 2000	CENSUS 2010	% CHANGE
With Seniors 65+	2,807	3,038	8.2%
Without Seniors	8,297	8,681	4.6%
2+ people without children	3,844	4,195	9.1%
Live alone, 65+	1,158	1,284	10.9%
Live alone, under 65	1,794	2,343	30.6%
With Children	4,308	3,897	-9.5%
Total Households	11,104	11,719	5.5%

HOUSEHOLD POPULATION

Average Household Size has decreased over time from 2.8 persons (1990 Census) to 2.68 (2000 Census) to 2.5 (2010 Census). The reasons for the decrease in Household Size are a result of more people living in single person households. From the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census persons living alone, 65 and older, increased by 10.9% while those under 65, living alone, increased by 30.6% in Oak Park. In addition, households with children decreased by 9.5% over the same time period.

EDUCATION

From 2000 to 2010 the number of people with post-high school education has increased to 66.7% of the population age 25 and over. According to the 2010 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimates, 38.6% of the population age 25 and over have either an Associates, Bachelor's or Graduate degree.

	2010	2000 – 2010 % change
Graduate/ Professional Degree	10.8%	-1%
Bachelor's Degree	17.9%	.5%

Some College, No Degree	28.1%	2.9%
High School Graduate	21.2%	-1.5%
Did not graduate High School	12.2%	-5.6%

EMPLOYMENT

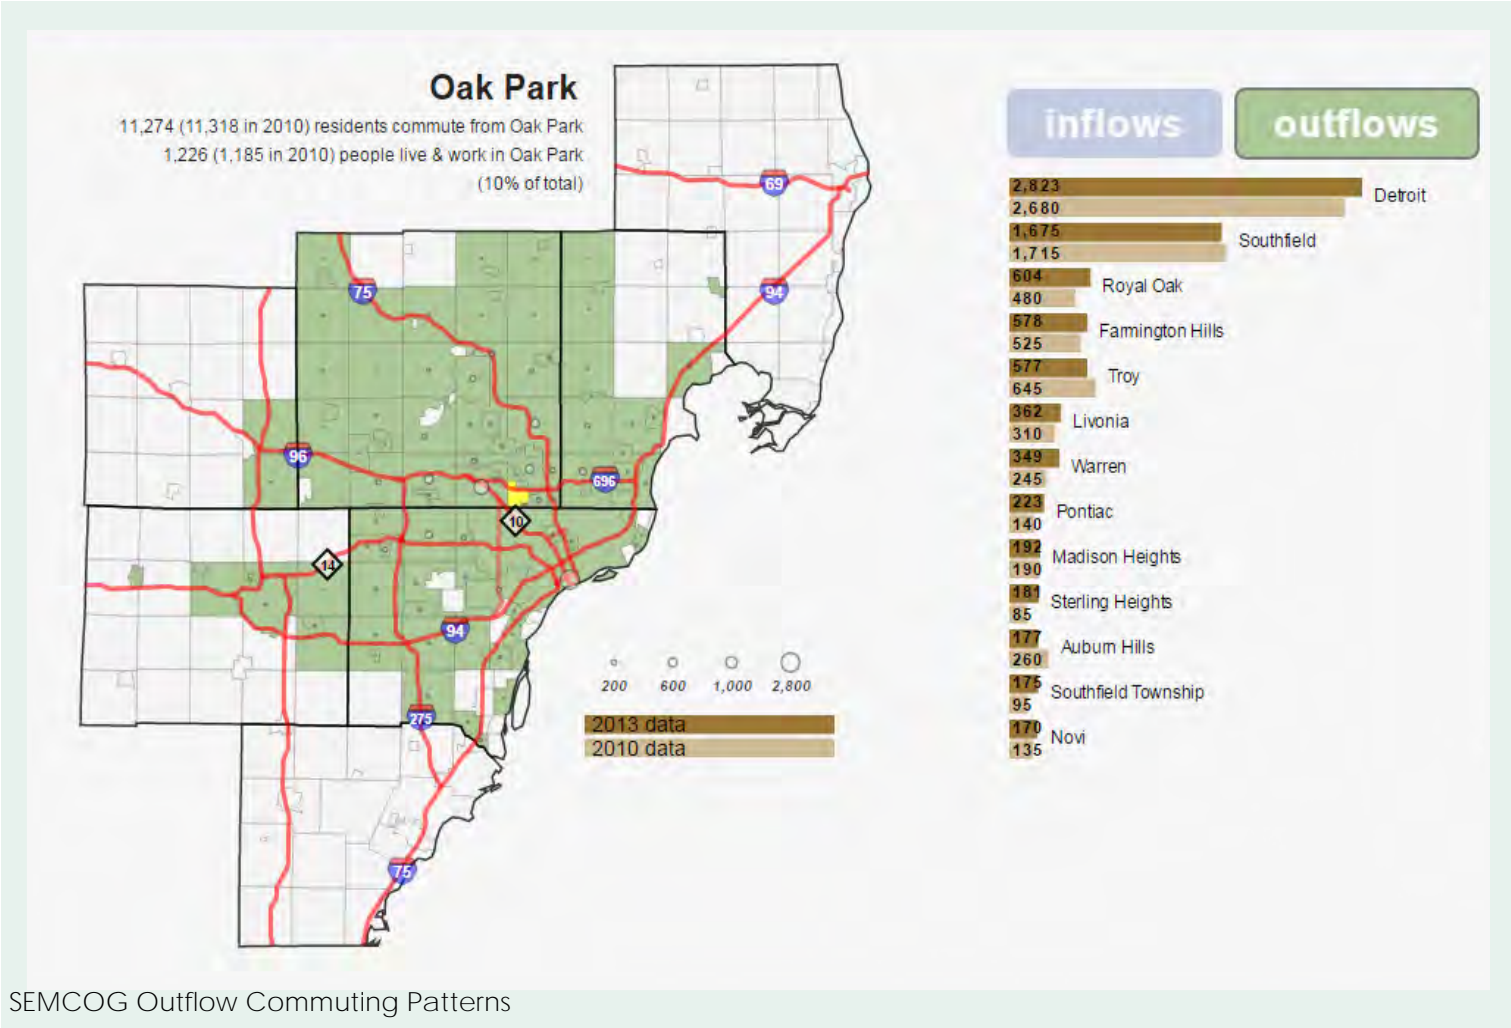

According to the SEMCOG 2040 Forecast the number of jobs in Oak Park will slowly and steadily increase from 10,175 in 2010 to a forecasted 11,182 jobs in 2040, an increase of 9.9%. The SEMCOG 2040 Forecast indicates that the largest increases will be in Private Education & Healthcare (+588) and Services to Households & Firms (+464). A decrease of 240 Retail Trade jobs is anticipated during the same period.

COMMUTING

Over 90% of Oak Park residents travel outside of Oak Park to work. Commuters travel an approximate average of 30 minutes of commute time. Most commuters in Oak Park travel to Detroit and Southfield for work. While many of the residents travel outside of Oak Park to work, many others commute into Oak Park to work as well. With over 10,000 jobs available in Oak Park almost 9,000 of those employees travel to work in Oak Park from other communities. The daytime population, 26,649, does not differ much from the overall population, 29,319. Based on SEMCOG commuting patterns between 2010 and 2016 there has been an increase in people living and working in Oak Park as well as commuters coming into Oak Park for work.

RECREATION

Providing well-rounded recreational experiences and quality facilities for residents is the number one priority for the Recreation Department. The City aims to improve the quality of life for residents by continuously upholding a high standard of excellence in programs, activities and special events, and by providing safe, clean, well-maintained parks. Oak Park embraces and celebrates the diversity of its community, and all programs strive to reflect the needs of all residents equitably. Promoting diversity and inclusion in recreation events and programs creates a strong sense of community, connectedness and social cohesion. Below is a list of initiatives of the Recreation Department developed to support the vision of Oak Park's future.

- ◆ Continue collaboration in programming through intergovernmental agreements with the City of Ferndale and potentially the City of Hazel Park. These cooperative agreements result in increased programs, participation, and maximize the use of public resources.
- ◆ Combine neighboring recreation programs to allow for sharing of departmental resources and offer more regionally based programs, thus maximizing available space and assets.
- ◆ Continue to foster a cooperative relationship with the schools and encourage shared use of valued resources for students, faculty, and community members. Schools are an important reflection on the community and the City is fortunate to have several parks within close proximity to Oak Park, Ferndale, and Berkley School districts' facilities.

- ◆ Collaborate with community and faith-based organizations to offer diversity-related programs and events.
- ◆ Create activities that capitalize on the uniqueness, amenities and character of specific parks.
- ◆ Develop and strengthen partnerships; collaborate with community groups, businesses, healthcare facilities, organizations, Oakland County Parks, Michigan State association, MParks, and the Department of Natural Resources to expand programs and special events.
- ◆ Utilize volunteers to enhance program services and provide volunteers with an experience that will strengthen their connection and loyalty with the Recreation Department.

- ♦ Create community; building relationships with local businesses that provide alternate sources of revenue to provide community events at no cost or low cost to residents.
- ♦ Work with other city departments to maintain, enhance, and create safe city parks and resources to ensure environments for optimal program opportunities for our residents and guests

The City currently has ten parks which comprise 102.5 acres of land. In addition the City maintains four greenbelt areas. These greenbelts present an opportunity for increased recreational space in the City's park system. These areas include the South Nine Mile greenbelts, both East and West of Coolidge, the greenbelt behind Capital Street connecting to Lessenger Park, and the Greenfield Road greenbelt. These new recreational pathways and parks would add an additional 11.4 acres of recreational amenities. To date, plans have been designed to include active and passive nodes along the South Nine Mile Linear Park with a multi-use path. The Greenfield Linear Park, although not yet planned, provides an opportunity for an additional multi-use pathway.

During the City Master Plan Town Hall Meetings and accompanying survey, it was discovered that although residents are satisfied with their neighborhood parks, they would like to see additional amenities. The online survey revealed that while 57.7 percent of participants choose to visit Shepherd Park, only four percent choose to visit Dewey Park. It also revealed the amenities residents deem most important. Although we received valuable feedback through the Master Plan public input channels, the Recreation Department will be expanding on this public input during their Recreation Master Plan process.

Through a more thorough analysis of the needs of the Oak Park community, the Recreation Department will aim to create a comprehensive plan for the future of the City's parks and open spaces.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT PLAN

The City of Oak Park's Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) is a planning tool which is analyzed annually and revised accordingly during the budgeting process. The goal is to identify and schedule capital improvements over a six-year period. The CIP is an opportunity to formulate strategic long-term policy decisions that extend beyond the current fiscal year. Each year, the City of Oak Park invests significant time and resources to design, construct, and maintain the infrastructure and facilities needed to deliver municipal services to residents and businesses. Because of the high costs associated with building and maintaining capital assets, the City must carefully balance the need for such assets with our requirements to sustain a strong financial position.

The CIP is first and foremost, a planning tool and can be quite useful as a primary guide in implementing the Master Plan. With thoughtful foresight and review as a result of a CIP, the many outstanding capital projects that communities are faced with implementing every year, can be viewed as one package, rather than as small, fragmented groups or lists, with no unified sense of focus and direction. When capital improvements begin with careful planning and study, the City of Oak Park's chances for receiving State and Federal grants are greatly enhanced. Some grants require the inclusion of a CIP with their application. Formulation of a CIP assists those involved to look at alternative funding mechanisms that might not have been considered before. Instead of relying on local revenue sources alone, the CIP allows the City to think more creatively to fulfill Master Plan goals and policies. The CIP often avoids reactive planning, and instead replaces it with balanced initiatives.

PARKS, RECREATION AND CULTURAL SERVICES

Quality of life initiatives, such as those represented by parks, open space, and trails projects, are an important component of the Capital Improvement Program. The City of Oak Park Department of Recreation offers ball fields, picnic grounds and playgrounds. Funding for parks, open space, and cultural events is primarily from the dedicated Recreation millage that was established for parks and recreation purposes.

COMPLETE STREETS PLAN

COMPLETE STREETS IN MICHIGAN

In 2010, Michigan became the 14th state to pass legislation that requires state and local governments to plan for the safety and convenience of bike and foot traffic when building roads. The legislation defines Complete Streets as “roadways planned, designed and constructed to provide appropriate access to all legal users in a manner that promotes safe and efficient movement of people and goods whether by car, truck, transit, assistive device, foot or bicycle” (PA 135 of 2010).

A Complete Streets policy provides a community with the framework to implement a comprehensive transportation plan that considers appropriate access for all legal roadway users. The law states that the policy should be sensitive to the local context and consider the functional class of the roadway, project costs, and the varying mobility needs of all legal users of the roadway. The legislation requires the State Transportation Commission to adopt a Complete Streets Policy that may be adopted by local units of government, and it also requires the establishment of a Complete Streets Advisory Commission. The law also requires that municipalities coordinate with neighboring communities and road agencies, and furthermore, interjurisdictional cooperation in preparing 5-year transportation improvement programs.

Complete Streets integrate people and place in the design, construction, operation, and maintenance of our transportation networks. Complete Streets are streets for everyone. They are designed and operated to enable safe access for all users, including pedestrians, bicyclists, motorists and transit riders of all ages and abilities. They make it easy to cross the street, walk to shops, and bicycle to work. They allow buses to run on time and make it safe for people to walk to and from bus stops.

COMPLETE STREETS IN OAK PARK

Transforming Oak Park into a healthier, safer, more vibrant and prosperous city will require a new approach and way of thinking. The creation of public spaces, alternative modes of transportation, and the desires of the millennial and senior population for a walkable, urban environment need to be considered.

Good transportation networks are an important factor in a community's quality of life. A multi-modal transportation network is a necessity in the City of Oak Park. Many of our residents rely on public transportation to get to work, appointments, and shopping. Oak Park also has a very rich cultural diversity, which includes a group of people whose only form of transportation during religious holidays is walking. By prioritizing a comprehensive transportation network the City can enhance quality of life by providing all users safe and equal access to their destinations.

Acknowledging the benefits of a complete streets approach several years back, the City began to rethink the way the Nine Mile Road corridor meets the needs of all Oak Park residents. Driven, in part, by the recommendations of the 2014 Strategic Economic Development Plan, the City began the process of planning the redesign of the currently over-sized Nine Mile Road. This process began with the assistance of the Congress for the New Urbanism (CNU), and their Nine Mile Report, which provided an array of recommendations to improve the experience of the corridor, all within a complete streets framework. These recommendations include additional crosswalks, bike lanes, a linear park, on-street parking, and a road diet. Based on these recommendations, the City has been working on a comprehensive rehabilitation plan of Nine Mile Road so that it accommodates all modes of travel, while providing a safe, comfortable environment for all users.

Understanding that a true Complete Streets approach means a well-designed network of streets, Oak Park is not limiting its redesign efforts to Nine Mile Road. The City will create a non-motorized transportation plan and adopt a Complete Streets policy that will consider all users when designing, retrofitting, or improving any right-of-way within the community.

By adopting a non-motorized transportation plan and Complete Streets policy, City planners and engineers will have a framework in which to design and operate the entire right of way to enable safer access for people of all ages and abilities in a way that complements the community's needs. This means that every transportation related project will be viewed as an opportunity to create safer, more accessible streets for all users, while taking into account the uniqueness of each street and its position within the City's comprehensive network.

NEXT STEPS TO COMPLETE STREETS:

- ◆ Continue discussions with community stakeholders that began the planning for the Nine Mile Road Redesign with the Center For New Urbanism.
- ◆ Host a variety of public input and feedback sessions to educate the public.
- ◆ Create a plan, based on public feedback, which will determine the best paths to connect pedestrians, bicyclists, and public transit facilities to public amenities, commercial areas, work and education.
- ◆ Collaborate with surrounding communities and consider their non-motorized transportation plans in order to create a comprehensive regional network of streets that meet the needs of all users.
- ◆ Analyze traffic patterns and determine where streets can be right-sized to include alternative and public transportation options. The City will consider right sizing roads and include bike lanes wherever possible.
- ◆ Determine desired outcomes and establish performance standards, to be adopted by City Council and Planning Commission, Oakland County Road Commission, and Michigan Department of Transportation.

PUBLIC INPUT PROCESS

Public input is a critical part of any planning process. Community involvement in this process was on many levels and included a variety of methods to understand the community's recreation needs. Throughout the community input process City Recreation staff facilitated the meetings, idea boards and created the recreation survey to allow for their comments, ideas and opinions. Through this process, community input helps identify what types of existing facilities are being used, where key deficiencies may occur, and what improvements need to be made. This master plan incorporates an extensive amount of public input and utilizing several alternative methods. By using these methods of public input, feedback from many varying parts of the community were received leading to a broader consensus on the direction that the master plan should take.

The following public participation methods were conducted as part of the process of preparing this Parks and Recreation Master Plan:

Community Input Meetings and Idea Boards at events – The Recreation Department hosted several tables at events and community meetings where residents could talk to staff and give their input on recreation questions and ideas:

- Summerfest, August 2016 2 days/10 am – 5 pm
- April 19, 2017 6 pm
- May 10, 2017 11 am
- Autumnfest, Sept. 24, 2017 1 – 4 pm
- Nov. 16, 2017 7 pm

Parks and Recreation Master Plan Survey – Oak Park created an online survey which was widely advertised to our community. The survey included question on parks, recreation facilities, and programs. Hard copies of the surveys were also available at the Recreation Office and the Library. We had 321 people take the survey. Results can be found on page 56. November 16, 2017 – January 5, 2018.

Review Period for Master Plan – Public comment January 19 – February 19, 2018.

Q22 The Recreation Department will be offering a mobile recreation program next summer that will bring recreation equipment and activities to neighborhood parks. The focus of this program will be to encourage kids to participate in fun games, sports, and activities. The benefits of health, physical activity, positive peer interaction and good sportsmanship will be promoted. This program may include: sports, group games, cardio hula hoops, scooter carts, jumbo balls, broad jump, basketball, soccer, volleyball, badminton, hop balls, agility ladders, giant tunnels, over sized board games, sidewalk chalk, arts and craft activities, music, dance, creative fun, read-along programs, and much more! What additional equipment or program ideas would you like to see added to the mobile recreation program?

For convenience, please consider bringing the mobile recreation to larger apartment complexes such as Stratford Villa. RECREATION GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The City of Oak Park's Parks and Recreation Master Plan has formulated the following goals and objectives for the next five years. The goals and objectives are broad enough to encompass the needs expressed by residents, community stakeholders, City Officials, the Parks and Recreation Commission and staff. They also address observed deficiencies in the recreation resources in the area, demographic trends, current growth and forecasted development, the area's natural and cultural resources, and recreation trends. Our mission is to determine what the community needs and wants, and work toward, over the long term, providing those facilities and amenities that will enhance the quality of life physically, socially, intellectually, culturally, economically and psychologically for everyone in Oak Park.

These goals and objectives formulated by the community are viewed as the cornerstone of the recreation planning process, in theory they form the framework for public and private decision making. The primary goals were developed based on the responses of residents that took part in the public engagement process and the Parks and Recreation Community Survey.

ACTION PLAN

The action plan for the next five years is a consensus of the development process that has involved City Administration, Department staff, program participants, Parks and Recreation Commissioners and most importantly, the residents of Oak Park. The action plan also includes the City of Oak Park's five year Capital Improvement Plan.

1) Maintain and update existing Park and Recreational facilities.

- Ensure that existing park facilities are maintained and upgraded to the highest quality standard for the safety and enjoyment of users.
- Develop a plan to update equipment at existing parks as equipment reaches the end of its useful life.
- Develop a maintenance plan, incorporating certified professionals, which check the equipment, play scapes and facilities on a scheduled basis.
- Make parks and amenities easier to access to encourage participation and active lifestyles for all age groups and abilities.
- Update existing facilities using universal design practices.
- Adopt a year round beautification/landscaping-schedule.
- Develop a uniform and appealing system of park signs to welcome visitors.

- Assess the aesthetics and function of the community center on an annual basis and develop a plan for interior maintenance, repairs and painting.
- Develop funding sources to accomplish this goal.

2) Develop a plan for under-utilized facilities, consider repurposing to fit community needs.

- Incorporate new capital intensive amenities; consideration for a dog park, permanent bathroom facilities at Shepherd Park , splash pad, walking/biking paths, picnic shelters/tables/grills.
- Research demographics and solicit input to gain insight to the needs of the surrounding neighborhoods and reflect the residents interests for programming and amenities.
- Develop funding sources to accomplish this goal.

3) Develop new parks and recreation facilities.

- Develop new parks and facilities that respond to the changing needs of the residents.
- This would include development, re-development and improvement of all city parks.
- Desired new park facilities include picnic area, pocket parks, linear parks, swimming facilities, splash pad, multi-use trails, passive recreation areas, indoor gym/pool/walking, interactive play-spaces, outside gym equipment.
- Develop funding sources to accomplish this goal.

4) Establish a continuous pathway/trail system.

- The establishment of trails, pathways, and greenways that connect parks, business corridors, community and school facilities, and neighboring cities to one continuous pathway system.

- Support the development and expansion of multi-modal trails that promotes Oak Park as a bikeable/walkable community.
- Develop signage that will enhance a person's experience to maneuver the trail system.

5) Identify financial resources available for funding future capital improvement projects.

- Develop plans and a means of generating and increasing revenues through grants, sponsorships and partnerships for upgrading and expanding recreational facilities.

6) Provide for the efficient administration and operation of the Parks and Recreation facilities and programs.

- Continue to provide staff members with educational training and professional development opportunities to meet the needs of the Oak Park Recreation Department.
- Evaluate and monitor staffing needs that will assist in administration and coordinating of programs, facility use and future trends in recreation.
- Where necessary increase the number of staff to support the programs and facilities needs of the City.
- Evaluate the need to expand office hours to better serve our residents.

7) Provide well-rounded recreational experiences and programs that reflect the needs of all residents equitably, improve the quality of life, celebrate the diversity, and promote inclusion for all our residents to enjoy.

- Promote total wellness and healthy living lifestyle opportunities through special events, programs and facilities
- Continue to maintain high quality programs and special events that are staples in the community
- Expand program offerings for all demographics and age groups; senior services and transportation programs, preschool, youth, teens, special needs, adult offerings and special events.
- Create activities that capitalize on the uniqueness, amenities and character of specific parks
- Provide affordable opportunities and experiences for all residents
- Develop a mobile recreation program that delivers a staff supervised program that will bring recreation equipment and activities to all city parks.
- Maintain fiscal responsibility.

8) Promote communication and partnerships.

- Maintain cooperative efforts between City Council, City Department and Boards and Commissions.
- Continue to identify creative opportunities and partnerships for promoting shared resources.
- Communicate with user groups through word of mouth, surveys, evaluations community meetings, open houses and focus groups to ensure we are meeting expectations.
- Continue to partner with users in evaluating ease of accessibility.
- Improved coordination between various entities, organizations, youth sports teams, Oak Park, Ferndale and Berkley school districts, local municipalities, Oakland County Parks and Recreation, state organizations, and private recreation providers to maximize the city's recreation potential.

- Utilize volunteers to enhance program services and provide volunteers with an experience that will strengthen their connection and loyalty with the department.

9) Ensure that the funding available in the Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) is spent wisely and efficiently for the good of the community.

- Follow purchasing guidelines and utilize competitive bidding to obtain the lowest price all projects
- Review and adjust the CIP every budget year to ensure that new ideas are considered
- Research and apply for any applicable state, federal and private grants to offset project costs and further spread city funds
- The current 6-year CIP includes the following projects:
 - 2017 / 2018 – Shepherd Park pavilion painting and repair project, $50,000

2017 / 2018 – Ice Arena roof repair project, $15,000

2017 / 2018 – Community Center roof repair project, $150,000

2017 / 2018 – Community Center HVAC repair project, $30,000

2018 / 2019 – Library roof repair project, $165,000

2019 / 2020 – Shepherd Park restroom renovation project, $50,000

2019 / 2020 – Shepherd Park restroom construction project, $100,000

2021 / 2022 – Shepherd Park restroom renovation project, $50,000

2021 / 2022 – Community Center HVAC repair project, $50,000

ADA COMPLIANCE STUDY

The City of Oak Park, Parks and Recreation Master Plan has formulated the following goals and objectives for the next five years. The goals and objectives are broad enough to encompass the needs expressed from residents, community stakeholders, City Officials, the Parks and Recreation Commission and staff. They also address observed deficiencies in the recreation resources in the area, demographic trends, current growth and forecasted development, the area's natural and cultural resources, and recreation trends.

Accessibility Assessment

A critical component in planning for recreation facilities is providing barrier-free access in order to accommodate the needs of all people, including those with disabilities. The ranking system by the MDNR Guidelines (2009) was used to evaluate the parks. The ranking system ranges from 1-5 and is as follows:

- 1) None of the facilities meet accessibility guidelines.
- 2) Some of the facilities/park areas meet accessibility guidelines.
- 3) Most of the facilities/park areas meet accessibility guidelines.
- 4) The entire park meets accessibility guidelines; and
- 5) The entire park was developed/renovated using the principle of universal design.

Each of the parks was evaluated using this ranking system. The specific elements reviewed included parking, paths of travel from parking to activity areas, activity areas, and surfacing. Table 2 provides the result of this assessment.

Table 2

Park	Rank	Description
Best Park	1	No accessible pathways or parking. Cannot access equipment or ball-field
David H. Shepherd Park	2	Multiple access points with accessible pathways throughout the park and access to Shelter #1. Ample handicapped parking. However path does not lead to playground equipment or other shelters. Nor is their access to most of the grills, picnic tables, or Forbes Field.
Dewey Park	2	Open blacktop area is accessible with some of the play features. However no trails or access to the swing sets, etc.
Harding Park	1	No parking, no ADA accommodations whatsoever
Jackson Park	2	Ample parking with sidewalk access, but there are no paths to the ball-field or any other features
Key Park	3	There was extra rubberized paving that allows access to playscape and swings. Parts of the playground equipment is outfitted with ADA ramps. No path to adjacent ball field and some upkeep could be done on the current paving
Lessenger Park	1	Only two handicap parking spots, otherwise no ADA features whatsoever.
Rothstein Park	4	Park is somewhat closed off, but there is ample parking when you find it. Pathways are ample throughout the park and through the park structures allowing access to most features. Could still update to newer more ADA friendly playground equipment.
Tyler Park	2	The pathway is not easily accessible but it does run throughout most of the open space in the park and runs closely to the ball fields. However it does not lead you anywhere close to the playground equipment, making it nearly impossible to reach.
Victoria Park	5	There are multiple accessible pathways with the whole playground being paved with new, ADA surfacing. All equipment can be used and there is also ample handicap parking. Pathway leads to the ballfield as well. The newly renovated space used proper ADA guidelines when constructing this park.
