Bicycles are considered vehicles and riders must follow the same rules of the road as all other drivers, which includes riding on the right hand side in the direction of traffic, and following all traffic signs and signals. Bicyclists are legally allowed to ride in the center of traffic lanes in St. Pete when there is no bike lane.

Bicyclists may also legally operate on any sidewalk in St. Pete, though they must yield to anyone on foot and follow all pedestrian rules and signals.

We want riding a bicycle to be a comfortable part of daily life for people of all ages and abilities. St. Pete offers a connected grid of quiet streets, bike lanes, and trails, making it an excellent place for recreational riders and cycling commuters alike. As our city continues to grow, we aim to provide safe, affordable, and connected transportation options for people who live, work, and play in St. Pete.

For more information on bicycling safety and plans to improve bicycling in St. Pete, please visit stpete.org/CompleteStreets.

To report any maintenance issues, please use SeeClickFix.com.

Printed May 2023.